JOHANNESBURG, SOUTH AFRICA— "First thing to do in Jo'burg is buy yourself a safari suit—English khaki shorts and bush jacket. It's kind of a uniform for the trip to Kruger National Park. And you'd be ashamed to watch the animals in anything else."

"It cost $92.40 for the four-day tour, meals and lodging in two-coat round huts. They start early—5:30 in the morning. The bus cruises slowly. Passengers swivel their heads to see the game."

"Elephants, lions, giraffes, hyenas, hippos—the whole National Geographic list. There are 700 elephants in the game preserve. It's one of those places that turned out better than the advance buildup."

(Robin Kinkead, who goes to some outlandish places for us, reports the South African scene.) Johannesburg is more than a million people now, the result of gold strikes. South Africa is the world's biggest gold producer. (Outside Russia, and they don't tell what they mine.)

"The new deluxe hotel is The President—$23 double, $16 single. The Rand International is about $5 less. Lunch, $3.50. Dinner $4 to $5."

"You buy Zulu bead work. Shields and spears. Zebra and impala skins. Wallets made of ostrich leather."

"In Durban, a sub-tropical resort, you can take tours to the Zulu villages. They put on war dances for the Instamatics. More later, Robin."

(A new Pan American flight goes New York-Rabat (in Morocco) direct. Then continues direct to Johannesburg. Less than a day's time.)

"Since you've written about Australia and it sounds good, how many Americans have gone there to stay?"

There are about 20,000 now. (How many have gone, lost interest and returned, I don't know.) There's an American Chamber of Commerce in Australia. The country isn't big in the travel-retirement class. Most Americans go down to work. They say the executive type worker likes it best. Working class least. Pay is much lower than the U.S.

Alfredo's has music and puts on quite a show of bringing in the fettuccine. Throwing the noodles around with the gold fork and spoon. Then there's the popular Da Mea Pettacca across the Tiber. A deep cellar restaurant with a drippy entrance (for color). Crowded. Lots of music. Waiters rushing around with full trays just over your head. (Not for me. But should be just a teenagers pot of pasta.)

"... a place for Chinese food in Honolulu?"
We Fat in downtown Honolulu. Ginger beef, lobster in black bean sauce are great.

SACRAMENTO — State Controller Houston I. Flournoy has announced the apportionments for highway users tax fund have been completed for November with a total of $11,516,181 going to the counties in California.

Under the provisions of the state codes, the funds received by each county "shall be expended for acquisition of rights-of-way for and construction of routes on the select system of county roads or city streets."

Under the apportionment, Los Angeles County will receive funds totaling $3,745,239.

Volunteer Aid Asked For Heart
A call for residents willing to serve the cause of Heart has been made by those planning the Los Angeles County Heart Association's Southwestern Branch fund raising campaign to be held in February.
Branch Fund Raising Chairman, Bruce Smith of Metal Treasures, Inc., Inglewood, has asked that residents "willing to donate their hearts and abilities for the next few months" volunteer to collect funds that will be put to work to lower the risks of cardiovascular disease.
Heart Sunday Chairman, Mrs. A. Voorhees of Rolling Hills Estates, said 16 community chairmen are also needed to be in charge of Heart Sunday fund raising activities in each community from Westchester to San Pedro.
Division and section chairmen are also needed to recruit and guide groups of block workers in collecting funds during the annual drive.
