Warrior Trails

By Cathy Focarazzo

West High politics are zooming now that elections are here.

Monday the freshmen and sophomores had their individual class assemblies and Tuesday the juniors and seniors met. Wednesday brought the really big all-school assembly for the ASB candidates. There all the candidates made their speeches and introductions in hopes of securing their chosen offices.

One of the highlights of the assembly had to be the skit by the West High Mafia or "The Brotherhood." All was quiet as Rick D'Amico, Dirk Davidson, Don McGaughey, and Dom Occhipinti came walking ominously into the gym dressed in dark suits, vests, dark glasses, and trench coats. On their arms were their gun molls, Beth Zimmerman and Virginia Sebillius, appropriately dressed for the affair.

THE STUDENT body was quietly awaiting the next move. Rick D'Amico, obviously the "head" man, proceeded to the stage and began his speech with an excellent Italian accent. His men stationed themselves around the stage, right hands cutting at guns within their vests.

"Ricardo" D'Amico running for ASB vice president gave his speech. At the end he asked

Pack 240-C To March In Parade

Members of Cub Scout Pack 240-C will march as a unit in the area's annual Boy Scout parade, now scheduled for Feb. 8.

Plans for the parade were announced at the pack's January meeting, held at the Walteria Elementary School. Cubmaster Ted Kibler conducted the meeting.

Mark Wetmore, 8, received his Bobcat pin during the meeting and was welcomed into the pack.

New leaders for Den 2 also were named. They are Brian Young, denner, and Jeff Westmoreland, assistant denner.

Awards for Den 4 were to Perry Roberts, silver arrow; Daniel Bishop, recruiter stripes; and David Rehfus, recruiter stripes.

Webelos receiving awards were Mike Eshweiler, 2-year pin; Martin Neveux, 1-year pin and denner stripe; and Wayne Austin, assistant denner stripe.

Drew Mendez was awarded the Arrow of Light as he ended his career in the Cub Scouts and joined the Boy Scouts.

very quietly if anyone objected to his running, when a couple of students yelled "Yeah" Don and Dom whipped out fake cap guns and began shooting into the audience. It brought quite a shocked reaction but made a very definite impression on the audience. More skits like those could make important things like elections much more successful.

Voting began Thursday for all offices and the results are expected today.

LAST FRIDAY night West met the South High Spartans at South High for a basketball game. The game was close and probably one of the most frenzied games so far, with South winning barely, 74-70. Tonight West goes to Inglewood. We hope this will be our lucky night and bring us our first win.

Finals begin next week at West. Schedules are completely changed for the week, with most of the school days short and Thursday and Friday minimum days. That's another thing we'll need luck for.

Bankers Attend Seminar

Officers of Imperial Bank, Los Angeles, convened in Laguna Beach for a three-day meeting. Purpose of the annual seminar was to advise key personnel of goals for the coming year and modern developments in banking.

George L. Graziado, president and vice chairman of the board, set the theme of the seminar.

OTHER subjects were computers in banking, escrow, and real estate and mortgage division outlooks. Films were shown during the meeting concerning new methods and future growth potentials in the banking field.

Roy C. Palmer, vice president and manager of the Westchester office, was chairman of the event.

Imperial Bank was founded in 1963 and is today fourth largest among all banks in the nation chartered that year. The main office is located at Western and Imperial Boulevards in Los Angeles and other offices are in Westchester and Torrance.
