TRADE DISPUTE EXISTS

Sometimes, Madge will surprise you.

Madge has her mind set on a new set of dunes. And it could mean "curtains" for you. It's surprising how many people are surprised like that every year. Don't be. Wherever, whenever you drive . . . drive defensively. Watch out for the other guy, or gal.

Watch Out for the Other Guy.

HEART VOLUNTEERS . . . Enlisting another Heart volunteer to collect funds for the Los Angeles County Heart Association's Southwestern Branch during February, fundraising time for the Heart Cause, was the reason for this meeting of these Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Heart volunteers. Recruiting Pat Garvey (left), supervising wire chief at Pacific's Gardena facility, to be Heart solicitor in Torrance, are Jim Conn (center), manager of the Torrance facility and Torrance commerce leader; and Chet Driggers, field representative at the Torrance facility, who is campaigning for Heart in Gardena.

Tartar Teen Talk

By Betsy Tomita

"Trash" was the topic of Miss California, Sharon K. Terrill, formerly Miss Torrance, who was guest speaker at Torrance High last Wednesday.

She was sponsored by the Pepsi Cola Co., and even wore a Pepsi dress, which displayed the Pepsi symbol. The Pepsi Co. is working with the California Antilitter League to "push for a cleaner California." Miss California tours different high schools throughout the state and lectures on trash.

"Ever since two legged man stepped on earth, he's had this problem of trash," she said.

THE EMPHASIS of the antilitter campaign is on youth and Miss California explained this fact.

"Tomorrow you're going to be the leaders and it comes all too fast. Help us in our campaign against litter and throw it away first," she commented.

She also gave the students a summary of her past year.

When she won the title of Miss Torrance, that automatically made her Miss Armed Forces Day.

"THAT IS the largest parade in the U.S. honoring the armed forces, which is sponsored by a local club," she explained.

By entering the Miss California Pageant, she met girls from all parts of California, and many have become life-long friends. When she won the Miss California pageant, Sharon had to train all summer for the Miss America Contest and also had many responsibilities.

"I was thrust with the position of leadership and I also had to uphold an image, which has been established since 1924," she said.

MISS California also gave her interpretation of Carl Sandburg's poem, "What is Love?" This was the same interpretation she gave for the Miss Torrance and Miss America Pageants.

The ASB treasury has gained $7,000 from the candy sale. Results of the class competition have not been announced because not all the money has been turned in.

South Side

By Lynne Alessio

Last Wednesday night South High's PTA sponsored "Military Majesty," a program designed to honor South graduates who fought in Vietnam.

A pageant of Army uniforms from the Revolutionary War to today was presented by a Green Beret Special Forces group of the Army. The 72nd army band from Fort McArthur accompanied them.

The San Diego Radiomen's School Drill Team, winners of the Army's best military drill team award, was the Navy's presentation.

A 25-piece Marine Band was on hand to help commemorate the 24th anniversary of the flag raising on Iwo Jima.

The Air Force provided an outer space fashion show featuring the survival aspects of space attire.

The principal speaker of the evening was Mayor Albert Isen.

Lenny Shapira, Spartan Junior, is the first teenage Commissioner on the Youth Welfare Commission. As chairman of the Torrance Youth Council, Mayor Isen recommended he be given a vote on the Commission. Before this time, each member of the council was over 21. Although he is given a standard pay of $10 per month, Lenny claims it's given "only as a token."

Among activities the Youth Council has planned is the "Youth Ride-Along Program" where teens are allowed to ride with policemen in squad cars on Saturday night to see just what the policemen do. Also Lenny hopes for a Youth Coffee House for kids who want to get away from home or school or just want something more to do than go to the local "hang out."

Spartan semi-finalists in the Bank of America Scholarship competition are Dave Brenner, select liberal arts; Jack Peterson, select math-science; Spencer Durst, select fine arts; and Charlene Stoutsenberger, select vocational arts. Eleven other Spartans competed and will receive the Certificate of Merit Awards.

Press Club To Sponsor Exposition

The Greater Los Angeles Press Club has joined The Department of the Treasury in planning a "Share in America Space Age Industrial Exposition," set for May 5 through 9.

Glittering with full scale and miniature outer space and oceanography exploration items made in Southern California, together with conventional fabricated articles relating to communication, transportation and situation of humanity's problems and achievement of the National Purposes, "Share in America Exposition" will tell the story of this area and its potentials.

The undertaking will ve a patriotic help to the U.S. Industrial Payroll Savings Committee in its campaigns to sell more than $5 billion in Savings Bonds nationally, more than $400 million in California.

Plans are under way to expand the Press Club cameo "Share in America" Industry Exposition and move it to a major museum.

Burglars Take Coins, Jewelry

Jewelry and coin collections worth several hundred dollars were discovered missing Tuesday from the home of Webb B. Morrow, 47, of 405 Via Anita. Morrow told police the items were probably stolen sometime since Monday, Feb. 10.

No signs of force were in evidence. Police surmise that burglars may have entered through an unlocked sliding glass door.

Missing were a man's gold wedding band, $50; a man's agate gold ring, $100; a woman's wedding band with seven diamonds, $150; a woman's engagement ring with seven diamonds, $550; a woman's pearl necklace, double strand, $75; and coin collections, $200.
