SOMETHING FUNNY HERE . . . Mac Perdue looks incredulously at Frank Ferro and Judy Tremaine as they relax in a scene from Hampton Players' current production, "Time of the Cuckoo," directed by Gladys Manu. The show will run at the theater, 21505 Madrona Ave., through July 12. Curtain is at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights.

Hampton Is Going 'Cuckoo'

"Time of the Cuckoo" opened Friday as Hampton Players' second offering in their new theater on the northwest corner of Carson Street and Madrona Avenue. Directed by Gladys Manu, the large cast includes several residents of Torrance.

Set in Venice, the story tells of the romance of a no longer young American secretary and an Italian shopkeeper whom she meets while looking for antique glass. Accenting the differences between the two lovers are other tourists and Italians.

Jerry Jefferies is Leona, the secretary. Monte Millard (salesman at Moran Cadillac, Torrance) is DiRossi, the merchant. Maxine Dessau (Torrance), portrays Signoria Flora, owner of a little hotel and employer of Giovanna, waitress and maid, played by Cathleen Owen. Elizabeth Atkins and Mac Perdue are Mr. and Mrs. McIlhenny, a retired American couple.

Judy Tremaine and Frank Ferro are a young couple in Venice on an art fellowship. Harold Kilgore and Sean Trethaway alternate in the role of Mauro, a little street arab. DiRossi's son, Vito, is played by Vic Wisco.

"Time of the Cuckoo" will be performed Friday and Saturday evenings through July 12. "Lion in Winter" will open Friday evening, July 25.

Women Voters Give Support to AB 409

Mrs. Louis Lanzer, president of the League of Women Voters of Torrance, has announced League support of AB 409, a $372 million state financial support measure for local schools now pending in the Legislature.

"The League of Women Voters of California has worked for many years for measures which would assure adequate financial support for a public elementary and secondary education system of high standards for all children in California," Mrs. Lanzer said.

"We believe AB 409 would provide state guarantees of a much more realistic level than is currently the case. It will provide a much fairer sharing of the costs of public education between the state and local districts. Increased state aid will also work to equalize the local property tax burden which varies so much from district to district.

"In addition to adequate support for all public schools, league members support the concept of special programs for districts with concentrations of disadvantaged and underachieving pupils.

"Remedial and compensatory programs require more funds than are currently available from the federal government and the local tax base. Therefore, we are pleased at the inclusion in AB 409 of special funds for these programs."

Local support of the measure, which would bring $1,600,000 in additional state support to Torrance schools, has come from the Torrance Council, PTA; the Torrance board of education; and civic-minded individuals who have been writing to their legislators urging support of the measure.
