Developers To Appeal Sentences

The District Court of Appeals will be asked to overturn contempt of court convictions for Kenneth Batrum and his associates, an attorney for the group has told the Press-Herald.

Attorney Dudley Gray said he will file the appeal papers today. He expects a decision Friday or Monday.

Batrum and three of his associates, convicted of contempt of court for refusing to testify in the Civil Service Commission hearings against suspended City Engineer Walter M. Nollac, are under sentence.

Each of the four was sentenced to five days in the county jail and fined $500 last Thursday. Batrum, Richard Leonard, Teruyuki Fujii and Robert Schulman received the sentences.

The sentences were stayed, however, until April 1 to permit the four men to file appeals.

Gray said he will file an appeal with the State Supreme Court if the district court denies the appeal.

fees. Young said the defendant never claimed to have made payment exclusively in one way.

Under further questioning from Anderson, Nollac said Bajji Enterprises saw to it that tax, insurance and repair bills were paid. He also said he kept no records of his payments or his expenditures for labor and materials for the boat during the time of ownership.

Anderson commented that Nollac never mentioned his other means of payment at the August hearing.

NOLLAC ALSO testified Monday that City Manager Ferraro never told him why he expected Nollac to report information that had never been required before, in regard to tract development.

Several of the charges against Nollac contend that the suspected city engineer failed to inform the city manager of the number of occupancies for which permits were granted in a tract owned by Jewell Land Co. Nollac also allegedly failed to disclose that the company was not making payments to its subcontractors, was behind in payment of its city inspection fees, and that work on construction of a sump within the tract was progressing slowly.

NOLLAC TESTIFIED that he filed a report to the City Council on every occupancy permit granted.

Nollac is also accused of recommending a $10,785 reimbursement to Jewell Land Co. for construction of a sewer lift station, and recommending a reimbursement of $3,056 to Kenland Development for construction of a sanitary sewer, both of which were to be constructed free for city expense.

IN THE Kenland incident, Nollac is also accused of failing to inform the city manager that Kenland had not complied with the competitive bidding requirements of the city code.

Nollac testified that subdividers pay into a fund, which is redistributed to those who perform sewer work. He described it as a "trust fund," not a fund from the public treasury.

IN REGARD to competitive bidding, Nollac said that it is not the most efficient plan to place an ad in the papers and call for bids. This system would not produce the lowest possible bid.

"I have rarely seen a city get as low a price as a contractor can through bargaining as a private individual," Nollac said, adding that this is because an individual can go to a second subcontractor and ask him to beat the previous bid.

ROSENBERG, a veteran Southland restaurateur, will discuss the economic impact of the Queen Mary in her new role as a convention center, floating restaurant, and "Museum of the Sea."

The 1,020-foot liner is now under going conversion at Pier E in the Port of Long Beach and is expected to welcome her first visitors in April, 1970.

The luncheon meeting is being sponsored jointly by the chamber's Member Relations and Conventions and Visitors committees. Miss Isobel Bernay heads the conventions and visitors groups.
