

New Film Parade Offered at Library

COURTESY APPLAUDED . . . Kenneth T. Hicks (second from left), has been named Rapid Transit District's Operator of the Month for February. He received the award as a result of a passenger calling in to report his "courtesy and responsibility in handling a valuable lost article." Hicks and his wife are flanked by District president Don C. MacMillan (left), who presented the plaque, and A. C. Tieman, manager of the district's Venice Division.

The Torrance Public Library is pleased to announce its May listing of films. Since this is a rotating film collection, there will be a new selection of titles each month. For further information, contact the audio-visual librarian at Post Library. Films are available to individuals and organizations.

● Alaska — Cruise Style: 14 min.; color; Canadian Film Library. The breath-taking scenery of the British Columbia coastline unrolls like a giant canvas for passengers aboard the Canadian National steamship. From Skagway, Alaska, an excursion train continues the tour up into the Klondike Gold Rush Country.

● Captive: 29 min.; b&w; National Council Churches. Because of the increasing use of automation in coal mining, Herb is unable to find work in the only field in which he can earn more than a subsistence income. The family relies on the government aid program for cash payments, farm surplus goods, and medical care. In spite of help in seeking a job in the city, Herb is found unqualified for any position. A thought-provoking presentation of a very real problem today.

● Happy Anniversary: 9 min.; b&w; Productions Unlimited. A French couple's elaborate plans for an anniversary celebration unfold as a series of unplanned events prevent their getting together. Music and sound effects effectively support the slapstick comedy. Academy Award winner in 1962. Suggested for adult entertainment.

● Highlights of Highway Sixteen: 12 min.; color; Canadian Travel Film Library. Following much the same route once marked out by moccasin feet Highway 16 cuts through some of the most magnificent scenery of northern British Columbia between Prince George and Prince Rupert.

● I, Leonardo Da Vinci: 54 min.; color; McGraw-Hill. Filmed on location in Italy and France, this film traces the life story of the great Renaissance man and the enormous influence his ideas and innovations made on the history of the western world. Frederic March speaks the words of Leonardo Da Vinci and through superb camera artistry the sights and sounds of Renaissance Europe live again.

● The Inland Sea of Japan:

28 min.; color; Japan National Tourist Organization. A trip through the beautiful Inland Sea of Japan, famed as the Japanese Mediterranean, takes you to the atmosphere of an oriental scroll picture. The richly variegated scenery of the coasts is made more interesting by many small ports, fishing villages, salt fields, and farms on gentle slopes.

● Maori Arts and Crafts: 20 min.; color; New Zealand Government Travel Commission. The film shows outstanding examples of this art, once in danger of disappearing, but now revived in the construction of new meeting houses and utilizing modern materials and machines.

● Praise the Sea: 21 min.; b&w; Films Inc. Blending information with creative use of the film medium and special sound effects depicts the influence of the sea upon the people of the Netherlands.

● Secre, Squai: 10 min.; color; Radim Films. An amusing fantasy is presented in which an artist discovers that whatever he looks upon by "squinting" suddenly appears on canvas as a painting. The canvases stack higher and higher until he has an exhibition. The public praise him and buy every picture in sight: an artist's dream indeed.

● This is Edward Steichen: 27 min.; b&w; Carousel Films. This filmed visit with Steichen in his Connecticut home covers his work, his personality and some of his wit and philosophy. For over seventy years, he has photographed everything from a sea shell to kings and he has done it with style and artistry.
