

Local Riders to Participate

In Auxiliary's Horse Show

Long Beach Community Hospital Auxiliary presents its ninth annual national benefit Horse Show at Los Alamitos Race Course May 23, 24, and 25 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. Also, this year an evening performance on Saturday, May 24 beginning at 7 p.m. is a first. On hand to open this segment of the show will be the colorful Long Beach Mounted Police.

Mrs. Donald Burke, president, extends an invitation to everyone to attend the no-host cocktail party which will be held in the newly decorated clubhouse between 5 and 7 p.m. before the evening performance.

A large number of Rolling Hills equestrians will participate in the show. Among them, Pat and Charles Ryker; Gloria Pinza; Elizabeth and Denise Dorr; Rommie Richards, April Burr, Kathy Epstein, Nancy Weiss, Teresa and Myrna Galarde, Marcia Brunning.

Also, Richard Nab, Vickie and Norman Reenes, Robin Burr, Barbie Harwig, Lisa Coffin, Meredith McCracken, Jeanie Reynolds, Wendy Walder, Tim Stewart, Joe Himer, Christy and Wesley Miller.

This show is a regular show member of the American Horse Shows Association, Inc. and is rated a "B" point show with Pacific Coast Horse Show. Proceeds from this show will go toward the depletion of the $35,000 pledge made by the Auxiliary for the new cardiac care unit now in process at Long Beach Community Hospital. There will be classes this year with first place trophies and ribbons in all classes, plus prize money in the stake classes. Included will be Hunters, Jumpers, Western Pleasure Horses, Tennessee Walkers, and Shetland Ponies.

The special Shetland Pony Roadster Class will be entering the ring on both Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Members of the auxiliary have tickets available and they can also be purchased at the gate during the show. Three Sony televisions will be given away and food will be available for purchase throughout the entire show at different locations of the grandstand and grounds through the courtesy of the hospital "Pink Ladies."

MR., MRS. E. V. WINKELBAUER
... Married 25 Years

Winkelbauers Feted On 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Winkelbauer, 2713 Martha St. who celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on May 9, were complimented at a cocktail party given by their two daughters, Misses Mary Jean and Carole Winkelbauer.

The home was festively decorated with white flowers and candles with a large silver tree before the mantle. Assisting the two hostesses were Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Clifford Graybehl.

The honor guests were showered with gifts, cards and congratulations by the 60 guests attending.

On the morning of the anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Winkelbauer repeated their marriage vows at a Mass at Nativity Catholic Church with the Rev. De La Cerna officiating.

The anniversary celebrants were married May 9, 1944 in the chaplain's office at the Naval Shipyard in Philadelphia, Pa. They came to California in 1945 and to Torrance in 1944. Mr. Winkelbauer is a trust officer with the Bank of America, Long Beach. He is a member of the Torrance Optimist Club and the St. Vincent de Paul Society. The family attends Nativity Church.

Following an annual tradition, Mr. and Mrs. Winkelbauer spent last week in Palm Springs celebrating their anniversary.

Faces Tell a Story

Mrs. William Adams' smile tells she picked a winner at Hollywood Park while checking final arrangements for Southwest Association for Retarded Children's fund raising "Day at the Races" May 27. LeVane Forsythe, association president, wasn't so lucky. Tickets are available at association headquarters in Torrance.

Race Day May 27 Will Benefit Retarded Youth

Members and guests of the Southwest Association for Retarded Children, an organization serving retarded children and young adults in 18 South Bay cities, will hold their fifth annual "Day at the Races" on Tuesday, May 27, at Hollywood Park.

The event, beginning at 1 p.m., will be a major fund-raiser for the association, which supports three training centers, two in Gardena and one in Hermosa Beach.

Clubhouse tickets may be purchased at the organization's headquarters at 23228 Hawthorne Blvd., Torrance, or by contacting committee members for this special event.

Serving as chairman this year is Mrs. William A. Adams with Mrs. Louis LeBouef as co-chairman.

LeVane Forsythe, association president, will appear in the winner's circle to present a trophy to the winner of their special race.

Proceeds will be donated to the Southwest Association's building fund.
