

PATRICIA OLIVER

Teacher To Lead Workshop

One hundred teachers from Northern California will pick up pointers on how to beef up their reading program from a Torrance teacher next July.

Miss Patricia Oliver, combination second-third grade teacher at Casimir Elementary School, has been invited to present a workshop on "teaching reading through the language experience approach" July 10 at Chico State College.

Her presentation will be one of several to be given during her 11-day seminar being conducted by the Northern California Elementary Schools Project for teachers of 10 counties. The project is financed by Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Miss Oliver teaches a special class for capable students with learning problems. Emphasis in the class has been on overcoming problems in all subjects by stressing reading.

were scientists of some renown.

Rev. Holborn was only an infant when his parents brought him to this country, but he learned the German language as a child and has been back to visit several times. His physicist father came to this country at the invitation of Lee DeForest, inventor of the radio tube.

The Rev. Holborn names travel as a favorite hobby, a hobby which he's pursued with great relish. As a youth, he spent the summer of 1938 in Germany visiting relatives, and probably would have stayed on a year to study if war clouds hadn't loomed so ominously. While in Hamburg, however, the young Holborn had the dubious honor of seeing Hitler in a public procession.

"He was smiling and waving at the crowd," he recalled. "He seemed to be enjoying himself!" History takes it from there.

Rev. Holborn conducted a tour of Europe in 1962 and travelled there again in 1967 with his family. And he is already looking ahead to a Holy Land tour he hopes to conduct next year.

His travels have also taken him throughout the United States, Hawaii, and Canada.

On the home front, the Rev. Holborn and his wife Elizabeth have three children, Fred, 17, who is interested in broadcasting; John, 15, a freshman at South High; and Elizabeth, 11, a student at Riviera School.

Mrs. Holborn, who received her bachelor's and master's degrees in music from the University of Michigan, serves as church music director. She is also an accomplished violinist, serving as concert mistress with the Palos Verdes Symphony and assistant concert mistress with the South Bay Symphony. Many local violin students know her as their teacher.

Aside from the pressures of church work, the Rev. Holborn likes to relax listening to Baroque music or enjoying his collection of antique Chinese vases. He has a long-standing interest in the graphic arts, but it's usually Mrs. Holborn who mans the camera on their various jaunts around the world. And the Holborns frequently treat the congregation to slide programs, focusing on a range of subjects from travel in general to a specific period in the history of architecture, for instance.

The Rev. Holborn also serves as president of the Greater Peninsula Council of Churches.
