AMERICAN LEGION BREVITIES

Meeting set for next Monday night has been postponed on account of Chamber of Commerce meeting.

The people living in the vicinity were kept awake for two or three nights by the lively hammering at the building.

The Post is making provision for a real clubroom in its present alterations—some place for Legionnaires only—and they have accomplished that by closing in the balcony in the front of the building.

The stage is a welcome addition, as is the kitchen. The Post's worry now is the equipment for the kitchen. But they'll find a way, we're positive.

The enthusiasm manifested by the majority of the members of the Post is something really to be admired, and we regret that a large percentage of us are not able to become members, because where such enthusiasm is so rampant we feel sure a portion of it would be absorbed by ourselves.

Tom Moran is wondering when he will get his Victory Medal, and is threatening the Post Adjutant with dire calamity if it is not forthcoming soon.

How many new members have you brought in recently?

At the last meeting a Publicity and Propaganda Committee was appointed consisting of Commander Aiken and Comrades Moran and McDonald. By the above you can see the committee is strictly on the job.

Watch for the date of the next meeting. There is a proposition up to amend the by-laws and it is to the interest of all new members to be present. Ask the Adjutant whether he sent you a notice.

The Post is now deep in the problem of purchasing chairs for the various meetings, especially the Chamber of Commerce meetings. Chairs cost money, and a lot of chairs cost a lot of money.

The State Campaign for the Ten Million Dollar Bond Issue is making good headway. The aid extended California's ex-service men by this loan is not a gift. The Vets have to pay it back with five per cent.

Are all the members of the Post working for the success of the Chautauqua? We'll say we are.

The boys all proud to see City Clerk Bob Deininger busy with a hammer and saw the other night. Hope to see you more often, Bob. Don't you ever get a notice of meetings?

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF CO-PARTNERSHIP

Notice is hereby given that the co-partnership heretofore existing between Floyd S. Rahm and J. W. Dial, doing business under the firm name and style of Rahm & Dial and engaged in the garage business in the City of Torrance, California, has been dissolved, and that no liability is assumed by either of said parties for debts or obligations hereafter created.

(Signed) FLOYD S. RAHM. JOHN W. DIAL.

OIL WELLS GOING UP

Actual work on oil derricks in Lomita is under way and the initial wells of the seventy derricks that are to be put up in the vicinity of Torrance are now under construction.

BULLETIN ON PRUNING FRUIT TREES

Information on the pruning of young deciduous fruit trees is now available as a result of the reprinting of Bulletin No. 313 of the University of California Agricultural Station. The first edition of this bulletin was exhausted very quickly and the demand for reprint has been insistent.

PALOS VERDES OVER TOP

Late press reports state that the Palos Verdes Project has gone away over the top and that E. G. Lewis is assured of his $15,000,000 for his basic improvements—water system, sewer system and roads. It is a common presumption that over fifty millions will be subscribed before they can stop the influx of money to make the grand total of thirty-five million. In a recent speech before the Chamber of Commerce in Torrance Mr. Lewis said that within a very few weeks between five and six thousand men would be working in the Palos Verdes Hills. It is the plan of the promoter to build the whole of Palos Verdes just the same as a skyscraper, and then when completed invite the people in.

TORRANCE SCHOOL NOTES

All ages of boys have had a turn at athletics of various kinds this week. Tuesday afternoon the boys of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades held their home track meet, under the direction of Miss Lay and Miss Mills. The winners in each event will be taken to San Pedro to the district track meet next Wednesday afternoon.

The seventh grade indoor team has regained its lost reputation by twice defeating the valiant fifth grade nine. The eighth grade still claims supremacy, after having defeated the ninth grade in a 9-6 game.

The High School boys are putting in heavy practice preparatory to the opening of the baseball season. By grubbing down trees and brush they have prepared a new diamond.

Friday noon the teachers surprised Mrs. Thelma Barnard with a little treat at the usual lunch hour Mrs. Barnard has been substituting in the kindergarten during the absence of Miss Rausch, and has made many friends in Torrance. It is with regret that they see her given up her work here.

Miss Lucille Rausch, the regular kindergarten teacher, resumed her duties on Monday. During her four months' absence Miss Rausch has enjoyed a delightful trip to the eastern coast. Pupils and teachers gave her a warm welcome on her return to Torrance.

On Wednesday the pupils saw "One a Minute" by Douglas MacLean. The moving picture machine furnished by the P. T. A. is being made good use of, and is much appreciated by the school.

HOW I FEED MY HENS FOR EGG PRODUCTION

In the morning I give a wet mash consisting of wheat mixed feed and screenings, with a prepared milk (ten to one): a good proportion of chopped green barley, meat scrap and low-grade flour; a small proportion of charcoal.

All of this is mixed with the "ten-to-one." The "mixed feed" consists of screenings not to exceed 8%, wheat bran 58.17%, wheat shorts 15.62%, crude fat 4.05%, crude fiber 8.55% and the balance wheat.

In the afternoon I feed them enough green feed (green barley) to satisfy the flock in each yard, consisting of about 1,000 chickens.

One hour later I feed a dry mixture of one-half milo maize, one-quarter wheat and one-quarter paddy rice. This completes their feed for the day. About twice a week I throw wheat on the floors of the houses in the straw litter, to make them scratch. This they do when they are kept inside and when I wake them in the morning by turning on the electric lights.

Of course, there are some who do not feed them as I do, and still get wonderful results. In fact I have never seen a district that has as many different methods of feeding as Petaluma, and at the same time get such splendid results. It may be that this has made the success of this district. The different methods are carried out with one objective—greater yields.—Bert Kay, in Orchard and Farm.

Mr. McGuire and daughter, of Redondo, and daughter, Mrs. Frost, of Kansas City, were dinner guests of Mrs. Ted Wentz Thursday.

STANDARD FUNGICIDES RECOMMENDED BY EXTENSION SERVICE

It has come to the attention of the Extension Service of the State University that in certain of the deciduous fruit districts of the county commercial concerns are approaching the growers recommending certain proprietary preparations for the control of deciduous diseases and insects. The recommendation of the Extension Service based on four years of study and experience in Los Angeles county and based on the results of continuous experimental work conducted by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and the State College of Agriculture, are the use of standard fungicides and insecticides. Fortunately very few insect pests of the principal deciduous fruit varieties are present in sufficient degree in the orchards of Los Angeles county to warrant the use of purely insecticides. The principal difficulties for which the deciduous fruit orchards of the county require spraying are California peach blight, shot hole fungus of the apricot, peach leaf curl and brown rot of the apricot, all of which are fungus diseases. The standard fungicides recommended by the Extension Service consist of lime sulfur in the liquid form in the strength of 1 to 9 or in the dry form from one pound to five gallons of water, and bordeaux mixture of the standard strength of five parts of bluestone, 5 parts lime and fifty gallons of water. These preparations are thoroughly understood and have been known for years, and although on the market ready prepared for use may be made by any grower desiring to do so. They have been thoroughly demonstrated to give effective control for the diseases mentioned.

In certain districts there is considerable interest at the present time in miscible oil sprays and claims have been made that such sprays will control the fungus diseases above mentioned. These claims are largely without foundation, miscible oil sprays being primarily insecticidal in value. Until further experimental work is carried on thoroughly demonstrating a fungicidal value for sprays of this character, the Extension Service cannot recommend their use for the diseases above mentioned. Where brown apricot scale occurs and where black scale is to be found in deciduous fruit trees, and also for San Jose scale and woolly aphid of the apple, such sprays may be found advantageous, but for fungus diseases the recommendation is made that lime sulfur or bordeaux mixture be used unless the grower is willing to experiment.

A POULTRYMAN'S PLAN FOR INCREASING PROFITS

Like every poultryman who must work for greater profits, I make it a rule to buy my chicks from the hatcheries at a time in the spring that I think will give me layers when the older hens are moulting. Then, instead of "laying off," as Nature intended they should at that time of the year, the pullets are just beginning to lay.

And to my mind that is the time to make them lay—when eggs are higher. During October, 1920, I had 3300 layers that netted me $650 and in November $785.

Last year in October my net return with 3700 pullets and hens was $805, and for November $785 net.

I had one man help me during October, but in November my wife and I did all the work. There is nothing to prevent any one from doing the same. And there is no mystery about it either.—Bert Kay, in Orchard and Farm.

BREAD UPON THE WATERS

A speaker at the Michigan picnic at Sycamore canyon, near Pasadena, while extolling the advantages of a residence in California and the intellectual development following as a natural consequence, spoke of a rattlesnake which had been tamed and had the liberty of the house as household pet. In rewarding the family for the bestowal of their affections the snake apprehended a burglar one night as he was prowling through the rooms; the snake coiled around the leg of the burglar and also took a turn around a leg of the bedstead and thrust his tail out of the window; sprung his rattles and called the police. The guardian of the law awoke and nabbed the burglar.

Moral. It is impossible to do justice to this case.

TORRANCE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McVey were business visitors in Los Angeles on Wednesday.

Mrs. Jack Lynn, of Vista Highlands has returned from a visit with her mother in Orange.

For the present there will be no more wireless demonstrations at the Lyon's Electric Shop on Wednesday evenings. Through an error last week a news story was published that these would be continued on Wednesday nights.

JACKIE COOGAN SHIMMIES WITH MONKEY PARTNER

Jackie Coogan does the "shimmy" in his latest picture, "My Boy," an Associated First National attraction, which is showing at the Torrance Theatre for the last time tonight. And the manner in which he does it will bring shrieks of laughter from anyone who sees it. Jackie Blair, the part this little actor plays in the picture, is on his way to a drug store to get a prescription filled for his friend and benefactor, the captain, who is confined to his bed with the rheumatism. Now Jackie didn't have a cent with which to pay for the medicine, but he was hoping for fate to supply him with the funds.

On his way he stopped to watch an organ-grinder's monkey go on with his tricks for the benefit of the crowd of onlookers. When the coins were tossed at the monkey Jackie got an idea, jumped within the circle and started to dance to the music of the organ.

Somewhere or other Jackie had learned to "shimmy" and he employed his knowledge to good stead. His efforts along that line were so successful that his cap was filled with money in a short time. But when the crowd had dispersed the Italian grabbed all the dough and tried to escape with it. The manner in which Jackie gets his share of the proceeds of the entertainment furnishes delightful humor.

"BURN 'EM UP' BARNES" BOASTS ALL-STAR CAST

A cast that can well be termed an all-star one, without the employment of one iota in exaggeration, will be seen when "Burn 'Em Up' Barnes," Johnny (Torchy) Hines' first feature length starring vehicle, will be shown at the Torrance Theatre.

Johnny Hines requires no introduction to the theatregoers of the country. His initial screen appearance was made over six years ago with the World Film Corporation, under the direction of Maurice Tourneur. For the past two years he has been seen in the title role of the now famous Torchy Comedies. In "Burn 'Em Up' Barnes," which was made during Johnny's "vacation," he has the title role. Playing opposite to him is Betty Carpenter, remembered for her work with Constance Binney and Alice Brady and in Sunshine Comedies. Next comes that well-known stage star, Edmund Breese, and also there is that most amusing of all character actors, George Fawcett. J. Barney Sherry plays the role of Barnes' father, and Julia Swayne Gordon plays the role of the mother. Others in the cast include Mathew Betts, Dorothy Leeds, Harry Fraser and Richard Thorpe. George A. Beranger, for six years with the Griffith forces, directed.

HOW DOES PRUNING EFFECT SIZE OF TREES?

Since every fruit grower is interested in growing trees of the largest possible size, the conclusions of Whitten and Tufts are especially interesting. These experiments have emphasized the fact that heavy cutting back results in stunted growth, while little or no cutting back means maximum diameter growth in the branches. The truth of their findings in Northern California has been verified in Southern California experiments. In the case of some three-year-old peach trees, where topped-back rows alternate with long-pruned rows, there is at least 25% better growth in the "long" trees. The stunting effect of topping trees is noticeable in every case where this treatment has been given.—Geo. P. Weldon in Orchard and Farm.
