PEACHES LARGE JUICY LUSCIOUS CANNING PEACHES

To The Thrifty Housewife—Direct From The Grower Through Your Own Groceryman

The usual and established method of business is for the producer or grower to sell through a broker, commission man, jobber and retailer, and when the commodity ultimately reaches the consumer, in the big majority of cases he pays more than the actual value, and the producer does not receive enough to pay him a living wage.

The best peaches in the United States are grown in California, and in the Hemet Valley we grow the best peaches in California.

In former seasons our crops went to the Hemet cannerys, were put up in cans under the best brands, and sold the world over.

This season we decided to break away from the established custom and dispose of our fruit direct to you through your own local groceryman.

We absolutely guarantee you the best fruit obtainable or no sale.

Opening Protected Price

$1.50 Per Box

If prices go up, you pay no more. If prices go down, you get the reduction.

The opening Protected Price is $1.50 per box for both varieties, Lovel Freestones and Phillips Clings. You will not have to pay any more at the time of delivery if the market goes up, but if the market should drop, the price to you will be reduced accordingly.

The time for delivery on Freestone Peaches is on or about August 15th, and on the Clings a month later.

The quantity allotted to this territory, which includes Torrance, Lomita, Harbor City, Redondo, Hermosa, Manhattan, and Moneta, is limited to 1000 boxes, and we advise placing your order early.

Any one of the following stores will be glad to book your orders and deliver the fruit to you the same day as that on which it is picked.
