

BUILDERS' GUIDE

WHETHER you are contemplating the erection of a chicken house or a business block, a bungalow, or an apartment house, the time to build is NOW. It's the consensus of opinion among material men throughout the country that owing to economic conditions, labor unrest and the railway strike, the cost of building material both in hardware and lumber, as well as brick and cement, will not be less than at present for some time to come and that any day may see the end of the comparatively low prices, with a sharp advance in all lines. TAKE THE EXPERT ADVICE OF THE ADVERTISERS ON THIS PAGE AND BUILD NOW.

A Real He-Man
Game Tomorrow

The local American Legion Post will stage its second and final football game of the season on the Union Tool Company baseball grounds Saturday, January 6, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. E. H. Nash of the Llewellyn Iron Works, and a member of the Torrance Board of Trustees, will manage the opposing team, which is to be known as Nash's All-Stars. Mr. Nash promises this will be a regular football game. He will use the talent of the Llewellyn plant in Los Angeles, as well as three of the Indians of the Torrance plant, who proved to be of stellar caliber in the game of the 16th of December.

As the Los Angeles plant has over one thousand employees we don't think he will have difficulty in getting together a bunch of "All Stars" in keeping with the name of the team.

Both teams have been practicing in full regalia, and we believe the people of Torrance will witness some real football tomorrow. The Legion team has a bunch of new plays, which will make the hair of some of the spectators stand on end.

Both Nash and Fitzhugh will grace the ranks of the Llewellyn team, and those who witnessed last year's game know what that means.

The ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary will sell tags to the onlookers in place of charging admission fees.

The Legion is doing a good work, and are in need of the money. You'll certainly get your money's worth at this game—and more. Let's be prepared to exchange at least a quarter for one of those tags.

ACREAGE BEING SOLD

Among the recent sales of acreage that indicates investment by outsiders in tracts large enough for either oil or subdividing purposes, was the transfer last week of five acres on Normandie to Mrs. De Mulle of Long Beach, and another five-acre tract on Carson to a Mr. Neese, also of Long Beach. Both transactions were handled by the realty firm of Babcock & Jones in the Auditorium building.

Marion Reeves and family have moved to Moneta, where he is in charge of Hurum Reeve's hardware store.

We're getting so many autos that it won't be long before the fellow who walks will need to carry a horn.

SAYS RED PEPPER
HEAT STOPS PAIN
IN FEW MINUTES

Rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, back-ache, stiff neck, sore muscles, strains, sprains, aching joints. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers, and when heat penetrates, right down into pain and congestion relief comes at once.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes the sore spot is warmed through and through and the torture is gone.

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on every package.

TORRANCE NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Carter of 1104 Portola avenue entertained during the holidays her niece, Miss Dottie Smith of Saugus. She liked Torrance very much, and had a very good time.

"VAMPS" WHO MADE HISTORY

By JAMES C. YOUNG.

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
THE WOMAN POISONER.

IF EVER a woman deserved the name of vampire that woman was the Marquise de Brinvilliers. Her misdeeds shocked even medieval Europe in a day when terrible crimes were not unusual. This Marquise was a pretty little woman with an air of youthful innocence. One day she was introduced by her husband to Godin de St. Croix, a young cavalry officer of gay ways. The scandal of their relations soon became a topic of the hour. When the husband of the Marquise failed to interfere, probably because of his flight before creditors, her father had St. Croix put in the Bastille. There the young blade meditated vengeance. A means came to his hand through an acquaintance made in prison with one Exill, a man skilled in the methods of the Italian poisoners.

When St. Croix was released a year later he plotted with the Marquise to be avenged on her father. He told her of the poisoner's recipes, and she tried their effect on poor people who came to her door in search of alms. And by watching the results she decided that it was safe to attempt the life of her parent. This she did with complete success in 1686.

St. Croix had been avenged. But more pressing matters weighed upon him and his mistress. They needed money. Then the natural question arose: why not poison her two brothers and sisters so that she would inherit the whole estate? But these guilty lovers were crafty. They waited four long years, when the two brothers were despatched, with the aid of a valet. An investigation followed, showing the method of their death, but without directing attention to the Marquise. Then St. Croix suddenly died. He had no heirs, so the police were called in, and found among his papers documents which incriminated the Marquise and the valet. The latter was caught, tortured, and confessed. Then he was broken alive on the wheel. But the Marquise had taken flight to England. Afterward she went to Germany and finally to a convent at Liege, where she was decoyed by a police official disguised as a priest. When arrested it was discovered that this unnatural woman had kept a full account of her life and crimes. She returned to Paris a prisoner. There she underwent the torture in her turn and finally was beheaded July 16, 1676, and her body burned.
