SAN PEDRO TO HAVE SPLENDID AUTO SHOW

Feb. 1 to 3 Dates Selected For Showing Late Models

Abreast of the times as usual, San Pedro is to give a big auto show February 1, 2 and 3 in the auditorium on Seventh street.

The big building has been engaged and decorators will soon be busy arranging the various booths for the cars as well as decorating the entire interior of the building in keeping with the event.

Every well known make of car is to be represented and from roadsters to the big luxurious limousines every model for this year will be shown.

Among the more prominent dealers who will have prominent booths are the Studebaker, represented by Glenn E. Thomas, of 440 Pacific avenue, who will show the very latest models of the car that heads the lists this month in sales in California, in its price class.

The display will be made by ten distributors with thirty different models of 1923 cars and twenty-five accessory, tire, ignition and industrial establishments. Two orchestras and special entertainment features for the three days.

The White Garage, representative of the well known Hudson and Essex cars, will be another prominent exhibitor. The popular 1923 model of the Hudson coach that has created a furore in the automobile world, will be in a position to receive the praise it deserves, while the ever popular Essex, both in open and closed models for this year, will be prominently displayed.

Clark J. Cook, probably the best known automobile dealer in this part of the state, will have one of the largest and most handsomely decorated booths in the show—large to accommodate the Lincoln, that will be a feature of the exposition and beautifully arranged in appreciation of the wonderful Ford patronage he has received during the last 12 months.

Last but by no means least, in the list of the more prominent dealers is the Rix Garage that will exhibit both the Willys-Knight, the wonderful sleeve valve car, and the latest model of the Overland that has just been received. The last named is a revelation to autoists and will create a lasting interest in those who view this leader in its price class.
