Charley's Aunt Being Shown by Hart Brothers

Probably everyone has heard of "Charley's Aunt," now playing at the Hart Players. The Hart brothers are fortunate to be able to present to the public this well liked farce comedy. It is absolutely beyond a doubt the funniest farce comedy that has ever been presented by this well liked company. The Hart brothers are doing their utmost to produce before the public absolutely first class productions and to our knowledge they have done so.

King Players Present Farce All This Week

With a background of motion picture high life, "The Whole Town's Talking," in which the Charles King Players, with Dudley Ayres and Rose Ludwig, are appearing this week at the Mission theatre, Long Beach, is proving one of the most hilarious farce comedies of the season. It was constructed strictly for amusement purposes, and there is a laugh to every line.

Next week the Mission offers the first presentation of a reconstructed play by Owen Davis, famous author of "The Nervous Wreck."

"My Father's Wife" is the temporary title selected for this comedy, which is being produced in Long Beach as a preliminary to its Broadway premiere. A prize of $25 is being offered by the management of the Mission for the best suggestion for a permanent title. Every person who attends a performance of the play is eligible to compete. The production is said to be one of the best works of Mr. Davis, who is known as one of the most successful playwrights of the day.

Miss Marguerite Jones took her journalism class to a meeting of the Southern California high school association of teachers and pupils connected with the publication of school papers, on Friday, at the San Bernardino high school.

Thursday Mrs. Boynton's Spanish class gave a Spanish play, "En el Cafe," in the auditorium, the whole school being present. The second and third year classes sang Spanish songs.

The Girls' League had charge of the Women's Club program at their regular meeting on Thursday, March 26. After the business session the Girls' Glee Club sang, and one of the students, Lucille Weaver, gave a talk on the duty of mothers to the high school girl. A summary of what the Girls' League has done this year was given by Geraldine Miller, and the address delivered by Maud Murray Weirick on "The Girl in Her Teens." The program was closed with an exhibit of water colors.

"The Price of Pleasure" Will Be Shown at Torrance Theatre

Scene from "THE PRICE OF PLEASURE" with VIRGINIA VALLI and NORMAN KERRY A UNIVERSAL JEWEL

WHAT'S ON AT THE TORRANCE THEATRE

Tuesday and Wednesday—Norman Kerry in "The Price of Pleasure."
 Thursday—Ernest Torrence in "The Brass Bottle" and all-star cast in "The Virgin."

A shop girl who has never had a good time in her young life, is Virginia Valli's latest role. The popular Universal star heads a well known cast of favorites with Norman Kerry in this production, "The Price of Pleasure," a Universal-Jewel, which has its first local showing at the Torrance Theatre, next Tuesday, and Wednesday.

A strong vein of comedy runs throughout the story and this is interpreted for the most part by Louise Fazenda and T. Roy Barnes. Miss Fazenda playing the part of the shop-girl friend of Miss Valli, and Barnes is a janitor, much in love with Miss Fazenda, but very much obsessed by radio's mysteries.

Others in the supporting cast are Kate Lester, George Fawcett, James O. Barrows and Marie Astaire.

The mts. was pretty clear Monday after the rain.

They was two rainbows in the sky Sunday p.m. and the end of one of them looked like it was right on Carson st. south of the Union Tool Co. and Geo. Proctor who never misses a chance to boost his home town says boxes has been hunting all over the world for the end of the rainbow and here it is right here in Torrance.

Mrs. Geo. Proctor has got two kinds of lump sugar in her house and one kind is the long kind and the other kind is the square kind. The long kind costs more than the square kind and is sort of shiny and so on the box that the long kind comes in she wrote "Company Sugar." And she was telling us about it Sunday and then said she was sorry she told us about it because we would probably print it in the paper—and far be it from us to disappoint a lady.

But I guess she don't figure us as company because when we et dinner there Sunday why she served us the square kind.

But mabbe I better explain it. The dinner was kind of impromptu and everybody brought on hurried notice just what they happened to have in the ice box and we brought a hen but they was so many there that there wasn't enough of the hen to go around and Little Ras when he went home thanked Mrs. Proctor for the dinner and said the chicken LOOKED good.

Mrs. George Abbott, Mrs. Bill Golden, Mrs. L. A. Kent and Mrs. Earl Kent were Long Beach visitors yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Showalter, son and daughter, of Sartori avenue, will leave shortly for an extended trip east.
