Doctors and Nurses Still Kept Busy in Tornado Belt

Mending of the injured and the soothing of the stricken is still keeping busy the hundreds of doctors and nurses rushed into the tornado belt, and to the ceaseless toil of the medical units is attributed the fact that the mortality list has not mounted higher. Chicago nurses are seen above (left and right) caring for two severely injured persons. Below is shown an American Legion emergency unit's headquarters at West Frankfort, Ill. The sign tells a story.

New Serial Starts Sunday at the Torrance Theatre

WHAT'S ON AT THE TORRANCE THEATRE

Friday and Saturday - Betty Blythe in "The Folly of Vanity," Aesop's Fables. News. Monkey comedy.

Sunday - Tom Mix in "The Deadwood Coach," Allene Ray and Johnnie Walker in "Galloping Hoofs," News, Sunshine comedy.

Monday - Lou Tellegen and Marjorie Daw in "Greater Than Marriage," and Ben Turpin in "3 Foolish Weeks."

If there is a thrill left in you, if your memory can go back to the days of real sport, when the greatest hero of your imagination was the two-gun man of the plains—then you have a great evening's entertainment in store for you at the Torrance theatre Sunday.

With a superb cast, Mix has made what is said to be the best western motion picture of his career. It has thrilling action, breath-taking suspense, and a comedy relief which is handled expertly and is calculated to make the most case-hardened film fan shake with laughter.

The story of "The Deadwood Coach" concerns "The Orphan," a reckless outlaw who is feared throughout the west but who, in reality, is the enemy of only one man. As a boy the outlaw witnessed the murder of his father by an outlaw named Tex Wilson, and "The Orphan" dedicated his life to vengeance. The way he fulfills this vengeance and wins the respect of the community as well as the hand of a girl, makes as thrilling a two-listed western drama as has ever been presented on the screen.

"Galloping Hoofs," the new ten-chapter Patho serial featuring Miss Allene Ray, brings to the screen all the thrills, adventures, romance and fascination of the race track, serving for the first time as the background for a chapter-play melodrama. All the sensation, excitement and lure of the turf—the hopes of the bettors, the shouting of the crowds, the springing of the barrier, the thundering of hoofs, the terrible but wonderful suspense when the flying figures come tearing down the home stretch—all these are transferred with all their original glamour to the screen in "Galloping Hoofs," to receive its first showing at the Torrance theatre Sunday.

Strong Series of Shows Due at the Lomita

Week-end Program Includes Vaudeville and Picture Features

Headed by a cast which features Madge Bellamy, Kenneth Harlan, Mary Carr, "On the Stroke of Three," the first of a series of four productions which will be released by F. B. O., comes to the Lomita theatre Saturday for one day only. Story is an adaptation by Philip Lonergan of the noted novel, "The Man From Ashluna," from the pen of Henry Payson Dowst, and it proves a remarkably interesting and entertaining photodrama. F. H. Weight directed "On the Stroke of Three," and has mounted it splendidly. The settings provide contrast in that the action is placed first in the beautiful mountain country where the hero is brought up, and second in New York City.

On the same bill will be shown the second chapter of "Idaho," a Lloyd Hamilton comedy and a new crossword puzzle.

The Sunday program will offer three acts of big time vaudeville. Eddie Williams will present a dancing act in "Stepping Around," Rose and Carol, "the Harmony Girls," will appear in songs and dances, and Marco and Louie will present something new in "Magic." Evelyn Brent's latest picture, "Silk Stocking Sal," will be the screen attraction. For the first time in her career Evelyn Brent, brilliant and beautiful young star of the cinema, assays the role of an underworld character and comes off with flying colors. The part of "Stormy" Martin, a girl of the slums who associates with crooks only to find that love changes her from a lawbreaker into a fine, upstanding young woman, fits the capabilities of the star as snugly as a new glove. The direction of Tod Browning is another notable attribute of the production, but Miss Brent earns her everlasting right to the name of star in this her second production for Gothic Pictures.

The "Leather Pushers," featuring the popular Billie Sullivan, will be the comedy attraction.

The Northwest Mounted Police, who are appearing in person in their original act of "Arctic" vaudeville, will be seen for the last time tonight. The picture attraction is "It's Cheaper to Marry," featuring Lewis Stone and Conrad Nagel.
