What Will Be the Next Big California Oil Field?

WILL IT BE

Paso Robles

General Petroleum Company have pronounced the oil taken from the Slayton well at the Union pumping plant, Paso Robles, to be an exceptionally fine type of crude.

Nature rewards the man of courage, whether it is physical or moral courage. Are you going to let the "best bet" in this coming oil district slip by you?

Of course, no one can guarantee that Paso Robles will be another Santa Fe Springs. But it is a fact that several of the larger companies are snapping up options in this area.

I have permission to sell 200 acres at Paso Robles at rock bottom prices

The owner of this land is now in Honolulu and probably doesn't fully appreciate the potentialities of the land. Now is your chance to jump in. It's a gamble of course, but the odds are with you. Let me tell you more about Paso Robles. I will drive you up at your convenience.
