SERVICE CLUBS WILL GIVE DINNER-DANCE

One of the smartest social events of the year in Torrance will be enjoyed on Thursday night, Nov. 19, when a joint dinner-dance will be held by the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Torrance at the Women's Clubhouse. Attractive invitations for the event were received by members of both clubs this week. Members of the two clubs are entitled to invite guests, many of whom will be from various cities of the Southland.

A joint committee from the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs is making arrangements for the party. On the committee are Charles Schultz, James L. King and Sam Rappaport, representing the Kiwanis Club, and Walter Renn, J. W. Post and Sam Levy, representing the Rotary Club. The program for the dinner is being arranged by Hurum Reeve of the Rotary Club and Arthur Finster of the Kiwanis Club. The dinner will be presided over alternately by James Leech and W. Harold Kingsley, presidents of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, respectively.

MR. AND MRS. HANSON ENTERTAIN HALLOWEEN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanson on Martina avenue was attractively decorated with Halloween effects Saturday night, the occasion being a gathering in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Phra Christiance of San Bernardino, formerly of Torrance. Numerous Halloween stunts enlivened the evening, after which bridge was enjoyed. Honors were awarded to Mrs. W. Harold Kingsley, Mrs. Robert Hoag and Rees Cave.

WOMEN'S ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT BALL HERE

When the Torrance Volunteer Firemen's thirteenth annual ball takes place at the American Recreational Center Hall on Saturday night, Nov. 21, there will be a number of novelties introduced, not the least interesting of which will be the orchestra. The firemen have made arrangements for music to be furnished by a well-known orchestra of women of Los Angeles. Several members of the orchestra are vaudeville entertainers and will introduce many specialties during the evening.

PLENTY OF REASONS FOR ATTENDING THIS PARTY

Dancing for the old young folks and cards for the young-old folks, dancing and cards for either or both, and all for the benefit of the Christmas fund for disabled veterans cared for by the American Legion Auxiliary of the Bert S. Crossland Post. That tells the story of the party to be given at the Women's Clubhouse on the night of Nov. 10, which is next Tuesday. Nov. 10 precedes Armistice Day. The Auxiliary gives but one dancing party each year and this on the occasion of the anniversary of the war's end. For this reason, because the proceeds will help disabled men who fought the war and because everybody is assured of a good time in the bargain, the Auxiliary has every right to anticipate a generous patronage.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MRS. ANNA STADIG

Following the business session at the last regular meeting of the Maccabees, held in the Women's Clubhouse, the members gave Mrs. Anna Stadig a surprise party. Several of the ladies were in Halloween costume, which added to the merriment of the evening. Mrs. E. N. Tomkins, in behalf of the organization, presented Mrs. Stadig with a set of bronze bookends.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

FRIENDS SURPRISE MRS. D. C. TURNER

Mrs. D. C. Turner of Andreo avenue was agreeably surprised last Thursday when a number of friends dropped in for an evening of music and games.

Refreshments were served at a late hour to Rev. and Mrs. Essig, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clarkson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mowry, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Tomkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Strike, and the host and hostess.

MRS. MARY PERKINS IS HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON

The home of Mrs. Mary Perkins of 1812 Gramercy avenue was the scene of a jolly gathering Monday, when a number of friends enjoyed a delicious luncheon prepared in honor of Mrs. Perkins' birthday.

Covers were laid for Mrs. E. P. Beardon of Long Beach, Mrs. W. Woodington, Mrs. Nellie Steinhaber, Mrs. Nellie Crossland, Mrs. F. H. Beckwith, Mrs. Luther Hyde, Mrs. Fred Lessing, Mrs. Brady Wolfe, Mrs. Dalton, and Mrs. Peterson.

WOMEN'S GUILD GIVES PARTY TO CLASS

Christ Episcopal Sunday School was entertained with a Halloween party Friday evening at the Parish Hall by the Women's Guild of the church.

Black cats, bats, owls and witches adorned the walls, and the colors black and yellow were carried out in the favors.

At the close of an evening of games, ice cream and cake were served.
