Poppy Week Here Opens Sunday; Beautiful Sentiment Attached To Adoption of French Flower

Next week is Poppy Week in Torrance and Lomita, the American Legion Auxiliary announced today.

Members of the Auxiliary will sell poppies, symbol of significance to every ex-service man. Funds will be used for veterans' relief work.

Mrs. A. W. Greiner, president of the Auxiliary of the Bert S. Crossland Post, is in charge of details. The members have been making poppies for several weeks.

A history of the adoption of the poppy by the American Legion and the Auxiliary follows: It was not by chance that the poppy was chosen as the memorial flower of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary—the poppy sprang from the hearts of these two great organizations.

The idea of wearing the poppy in remembrance of all who died in the World War was presented to the American Legion by one who, from all information obtainable, was the first in America to thus wear the poppy—Miss Moira Mitchell. The greater part of the following was taken from her history of its adoption.

It was on the morning of November 6, 1918, while she was serving on the staff of the Y. M. C. A. overseas headquarters at Hamilton Hall, Columbia University, New York, that a soldier placed in the hands of Miss Moira Mitchell a copy of the Ladies' Home Journal with Col. John McRae's "We Shall Not Sleep" illustrated in it.

"In Flanders Fields the poppies blow Beneath the crosses row on row, That mark our place, and in that That mark our place, and in that The larks, still bravely singing, Scarce heard among the guns below.

"We are the dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie In Flanders Fields.

"Take up our quarrel with the foe! To you from falling hands we throw The torch—Be yours to hold it high! If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders Fields."

Catches Message
Alone in her office Miss Michael read and reread this beautiful verse which immortalized the poppy, and studied the graphic illustration. She caught the message, and as she had dedicated herself to the service she declared, she at this time made a second dedication—to keep the faith and always wear a poppy of Flanders Fields as a sign of remembrance of the sacrifice made by those who fell. She wrote this dedication in verse, considered by many to be the most beautiful answer ever written:

"Oh you who sleep in Flanders Sleep sweet—to rise anew. We caught the torch you threw And holding high, we keep the Faith With all who die.

"We cherish, too, the poppy red That grew in fields where valor led;

At its organizing convention in Kansas City in October, 1924, the American Legion Auxiliary adopted the poppy as its memorial flower, and pledged the profits 100 percent to welfare relief for the service men and women and their families.

The poppy is now the memorial flower of the French, British and Canadian World War veterans organizations. The Veterans of Foreign Wars, another patriotic organization of America, adopted the poppy in the spring of 1923. The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary cannot claim a sole right to the poppy, for the poppy is God's flower and cannot be copyrighted, and has been chosen by other organizations, but the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary can always claim to have been the first large national organizations of this country to adopt this flower.

The poppy has won a place in the hearts of the people all over the world, and every year through the sale of the poppy by the American Legion and Auxiliary the American public is afforded the opportunity of purchasing the poppy, thus helping those for whom the war is not yet over, and of wearing it in memory of all who died in service.

J. V. Murray and son Lewis spent Sunday with friends in Hollywood.

***** LOMITA NOTES *****

Mr. and Mrs. D. Naulty and family enjoyed a picnic luncheon at Belmont Shore Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bryant and daughter Margaret, of Narbonne avenue, were dinner guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Keith of Long Beach.

Mrs. Fanny Skinner of Los Angeles was a weekend visitor at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. A. Beckham, of George street.

The first street sale of the poppies in a large city was held in Milwaukee, Wis., in June, 1919, to raise money for the Thirty-second Division homecoming. The American Legion in Milwaukee sold the poppy to raise money for service work just before Memorial Day, 1920—before the poppy had been adopted as the memorial flower of the Legion.

Sentiment Grows
It was in 1920 that Dr. Pender Jensen of Tacoma, Wash., went back overseas to search for his "buddy's" grave in the cemeteries of France. He was so impressed by the crimson waving masses that upon his return he had his Legion post adopt the poppy as its memorial flower.

Miss Michael was year after year increasingly impressed by the need of a token "let us forget." Her vision was far-reaching—she realized we could not have beautiful memorials in every corner of the land from the poppy could be worn as a memorial everywhere.

Although not a member of the American Legion, Miss Michael is held in very high regard by the Legion department of Georgia and has been granted an honorary membership because of her services to the organization. Miss Michael wanted the American Legion to be the first national organization to adopt the poppy, and on the eve of the Georgia department convention of the American Legion held in Savannah August 18-20, 1920, Miss Michael appeared at the Legion headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., and turned over to the post all her data concerning the poppy being made the Legion memorial flower.

Charles M. Gallenberry, commander of the Atlanta Post No. 1, took charge of the material and prepared the movement to the convention. The poppy was adopted and the delegation to the national convention to be held in Cleveland, O., the following month was instructed to present the resolution at Cleveland as to support it. The resolution was presented by the Georgia department at the national convention held in Cleveland September 27-29, 1920, and the poppy was adopted as the memorial flower of the American Legion—its first adoption by a national organization in America.

Q. Does the grower need to learn to grade his pelts or to tan and dye them so as to find ready sale for all his growth?

A. Not at all. Sorting, grading, and marketing is the specialty of the man who buys your pelts. Tanning and preparing pelts for manufacture are operations requiring many years of time and large facilities for handling. Each specialist should be given his proper work to do. The man or woman who grows the fur manufacture, and need not learn the intricacies of the fur manufacture, any more than the cattle raiser needs to learn how to tan cow hides.

A Nice Roast, Madam!

"Why is it, Mr. Ott, that you always have such good tender beef?" asked a customer of us recently.

"It's because we never buy anything but STEER BEEF OF THE FIRST GRADE, — and you know STEER BEEF has one-third more food value than ordinary cow beef. We simply can't afford to take chances by accepting cow beef from the stock yards no matter how good it looks," we replied.
