

TORRANCE NOTES

A. E. Schwartz spent Sunday in Long Beach.

Miss Dorothy Geary, who has been attending the Frances E. Willard School for Girls at Santa Fe, N. M., arrived in Torrance Monday morning to make her home here with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Geary.

Miss Lillian Faulner and mother enjoyed a Folies Cabaret performance Saturday evening.

Recent guests of Miss Lillian Faulner were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Swanson of Centralia, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Powell were dinner guests Thursday of friends at Huntington Beach.

SCHOOL NEWS

HIGH SCHOOL

The Torrance High School Boys' Glee Club had their annual party Saturday at Redondo Beach. A swim in the plunge, followed by a wiener bake on the beach, made the gathering a huge success. The chaperons—Mrs. Eischen, Miss Lingenfelter, and Mr. Wood—proved good sports, joining in the fun of the students whole-heartedly.

Student Body election for the coming year is to be held June 9, 1926. Campaign speeches will be given Wednesday by each of the candidates. This is being looked forward to by the students.

Justine Stover, one of our seventh grade girls, is in the hospital after an operation for appendicitis.

Last Tuesday Mildred Sleep was taken seriously ill. She is in the Torrance hospital.

T. H. S. is very glad to see Flossie Smith back again after a visit with her parents in Bakersfield.

Remember the date, June 16, for the senior play, "Agatha's Aunt." This play has never been given in this vicinity, and is reported to be a very entertaining affair. A good cast is working hard. Tickets will be on sale soon. Save the date.

Everyone is glad to have Harold Romine return to school after a two-weeks illness.

The aud. call held Friday, May 26, was one of the most interesting given this year. A salute to the flag, followed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," opened the meeting. A short talk on things that happened "over there" was given by W. Harold Kingsley. Richard Sinclair recited the Gettysburg Address, and Tom Jones gave a very interesting oration on "The First Memorial Day." The close attention given to all speakers showed that the program was appreciated.

The Excelsior game was played Friday, May 29. The Excelsior pitcher had all our boys baffled until the last inning. The T. H. S. fellows got going and scored three runs. Everyone was disappointed in the turnout of rooters. Next Friday is the last game, so let's all be out.

Easy Lessons in AUCTION BRIDGE

New Series by WYNNE FERGUSON
Author of "Ferguson on Auction Bridge"

Copyright 1925 by Herin, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 36

One of the points about every game or sport that every player recognizes is the necessity of constant play and practice to keep in tip-top form. Auction bridge is no exception to this rule, and a player who wants to keep his form, or improve, can do so only by constant play and practice. One of the best means of practice is to work out the problems of play and bidding that are given in these articles. They stimulate the mind and give the player the benefit of other points of view that he might otherwise have missed. Here are several hands, for example, where proper bidding and play would have been well rewarded. See what you would have done and then compare results with the writer's analysis.

Have you ever noticed how often certain cards or groups of cards will be duplicated in one or more hands? An observing player can gain many a trick by looking out for these duplications or repetitions. The writer saw a good example the other night.

Hand No. 1
Hearts—A, 6, 5
Clubs—8, 4, 2
Diamonds—8, 7, 6, 3
Spades—9, 4, 2

Hearts—Q, J, 9, 8, 7, 4
Clubs—K, J, 9
Diamonds—K
Spades—A, K, 7

Score, YZ 10, AB 20; rubber game. Z dealt and bid one heart. A and Y passed, and B bid one spade. Z bid two hearts, and all passed. A opened the eight of spades and Z won the trick with the king. In order to make game and rubber Z must win nine tricks. What was his best plan of play to accomplish this result? Z noted that he held a hand divided among the four suits in the ratio of 6-3-3-1. In his own hand he held six hearts and in the dummy three. If there was a duplication or repetition of the division of the cards in his own hand and those of the heart suit, it would be divided in the same ratio, 6-3-3-1. That is, one of Z's opponents would hold a singleton heart. If that conclusion were correct, was there any guide as to what the singleton heart would be? Z noted that he held the singleton king of diamonds, so that if one other player held a singleton heart it should be the king. Having analyzed the hand in that manner, Z led the four of hearts at trick two, and when A played the deuce Z placed the ace from dummy, and B's singleton king dropped. Every one at the table said "How did you guess that?" So Z explained the frequency of repetitions or duplications, not only of the distributions of the suits, but also of the exact card or cards. It's really very interesting, so be on the lookout for hands of this type, and if you run across any good examples send them in. Z's application of the rule in this hand gave him a game and rubber not otherwise possible, as he won six heart tricks, two spades, and one club.

Hearts—A, K, 7, 4
Clubs—9, 8, 4, 3
Diamonds—J, 7
Spades—Q, 8, 5

No score; first game. Z dealt and bid one no-trump. If A bid two diamonds and Y passed, what would you bid with B's hand? B should bid two no-trump. If A's bid of two diamonds is sound AB should have a good chance for game at no-trump. A bid over a no-trump when you have the lead should indicate a very strong hand, so B should try for game by bidding two no-trump.

Hand No. 3
Hearts—A, 9, 4
Clubs—8, 7, 6, 3
Diamonds—J, 10, 9, 8
Spades—A

No score; first game. What would you bid, as dealer, with the foregoing hand? Z should pass. It is too unbalanced a hand to justify a no-trump bid. Let the other players bid and then decide what to do.

Hand No. 4
Hearts—K, J, 10, 8
Clubs—9
Diamonds—A, 7, 5, 4
Spades—K, 9, 8, 3

No score; rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no-trump, and A passed. What would you bid with Y's hand? This is a very close hand. Most players would pass, but the singleton club is a danger spot for a no-trump. The writer would bid two hearts, particularly because of the distribution 4-4-4-1, which, as a rule, indicates a long suit in one or more of the other hands. If this suit is clubs it will undoubtedly be opened and will probably prevent a game at no-trump. There is just as good a chance for game at hearts as in no-trump, but without the risk, so the writer prefers the two heart bid with this type of hand.

Hand No. 5
Hearts—K, J, 8, 7, 5
Clubs—10, 8
Diamonds—9, 6
Spades—6, 5, 4, 3

No score; rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A passed and Y bid one no-trump. If B passed, what would you bid with B's hand? Z should bid two hearts. His hand is of no value whatever at no-trump and yet should do fairly well at two hearts. In this particular hand YZ score four odd at hearts and only one odd at no-trump—quite a difference.

LAST FATEFUL HOUR HERE!

NOW FOR THE HOME STRETCH

Every "active" candidate in The Herald and News Big Campaign will receive one of the major prizes or a cash award. But out of this array of candidates three will stand out pre-eminently and alone as the winners of the first honors. Three candidates will have established a record of achievement that can be pointed to with pride long after the campaign is over and forgotten; two candidates will be the possessors of fine motor cars and the third, a beautiful $310 Brunswick Console Phonograph, and as such will be heralded throughout the territory as the "CHAMPIONS OF THE DAY." Only a few hours remain. MAY THE BEST CANDIDATE WIN!

HOW TO SECURE OVER A MILLION VOTES

One new ten-year subscription counts 225,000 votes.

Ten such subscriptions will secure 2,225,000 votes regularly. Then in addition to these regular votes, 100,000 extra votes are issued on every club of $24, so these same subscriptions would be entitled to 1,000,000 extra votes. Then if they are "new" subscriptions they would be entitled to an additional 1,000,000 extra votes.

Consequently, just ten NEW ten-year subscriptions would secure 4,225,000 votes.

It can readily be seen that a little work among friends and relatives would place any candidate in a position to win. A prize worth upwards of $1379 awaits the winner. Time is limited. The big race closes forever Monday, June 21st, at 9 P. M.
