TOWNE ALKE

"Just for Fun"

By RAS BERRY

Tom Foley says folks around here ain't given to gardening if it requires any elbow grease because he says he advertised some household goods for sale and sold pretty near everything but a rake, a hoe and a shovel. Tom is in the wrong again because folks in Torrance is so energetic they have all got garden tools and they can't understand how a guy would want to sell his unless he is using his golf implements in his garden which from what I seen him do last Sat. at the Palos Verdes links seems quite possible.

Ed Nelson he started to tell me something the other day and then he didn't because he said if he did I would probably razor him about it so I guess he must think I am unusually interested in him when he should ought to know I was fed up on Swedes long before he come to Torrance for ain't I knowed Fred Hansen for four years.

Dr. Lancaster and Dr. Fossum is both proud papas of new babies and Slip Kelsey remarks that it looks like the professional men is determined to make a town of Torrance.

The bus mgr. says he is glad to see a glove factory starting out in back of our place because then he can go out any time and get a couple of fingers.

Your fingers says Sam Levy, is all thumbs.

Except, says the bus mgr. when they is a icicle mitt.

A big South Dakota gink shook hands with President Coolidge and sprained the chief executive's wrist and that says Harry Roberts is what a man gets for shaking hands with a Swede.

Mac McDowell says he don't believe real estate men should ought to lie but if they are going to they ought to tell the same lie.

Ben Lingenfelter says his name wasn't in the paper but he often takes a chance.

But his name might of been in the paper because he has got four queens.

Sam Levy tells this one: A Hebraic and a Scotchman went out one night on a wild party. They imbibed so freely that both fell asleep in the gutter, whereupon a friend picked them up, took them to a hotel and put them to bed. While all this was taking place the two remained completely dead to the world. In the morning Able awoke and said to Angus, "Where is the other guy?" "There wasn't any other guy," replied the Scot.

"I tell you there was another guy," said Cohen.

"And I tell you there was not," shouted the Scot.

"Then who bought all the drinks?" asked Able.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY

MRS. CLAYTON HALL ENTERTAINS GUILD

Mrs. Clayton Hall entertained the members of the Episcopal Guild at home in the parish hall Thursday.

The table was prettily decorated in green and white, the favors were green nut baskets, and the napkins were decorated with shamrock. Baskets of peach blossoms formed the centerpieces. The color scheme was carried out in the delicious menu.

Mrs. Hall was assisted by Mrs. George Worcester and Mrs. J. R. Jensen.

PLANS PARTY FOR NIGHT SCHOOL CLASS

To interest more adults in the night school English class, Miss Burnham is planning a social evening along with a program for next Thursday, March 31. This is being done because so few have enrolled. About six people have shown a desire to have a class in English, and an attendance of twelve is needed. Surely there are more than a dozen people in Torrance who realize the value of an English class for their benefit. If the number needed is not secured the class will be discontinued. As the members are eager to continue, it is hoped the people of Torrance will turn out.

MRS. OUTLAND WEDS MR. CHARLES MCCOY

Mrs. Mabel Outland and Charles McCoy, both well known in Torrance, were married at high noon Thursday, March 17, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Hill, of Long Beach.

The ceremony and wedding dinner were attended by members of the immediate families, and Mrs. Marie Dannelly of Torrance. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy have returned from a honeymoon trip to Catalina and are at home in Gardena.

Mrs. McCoy was formerly a member of the office force at the P. E. shops here, and Mr. McCoy is head driller for the Selby-Root Oil Company.

The progressive dinner planned by the Junior Auxiliary of the Women's Club for Monday, April 4, promises to be a jolly affair. Cocktails will be served at Mary Guyan's home, soup at Marie Boyd's, salad at Cassie Hansen's, dinner course at Florence Beckwith's, and dessert at the W. H. Gilbert home.

Members are advised to bring kiddie cars, casters, roller skates, or any other means of transportation available.

LEGION AUXILIARY CARD PARTY EMINENT SUCCESS

The March committee of the American Legion Auxiliary gave a very successful card party at Legion hall Wednesday evening, March 16.

There were 20 tables of players at bridge, five hundred, and pinocle.

The Auxiliary expresses sincere appreciation to the following merchants, whose donations contributed greatly to the success of the affair: Mr. Ott, white rabbit; Mr. Barkdull, side of Swift's Premium bacon and bottle of horseradish; Mr. Huddleston, side table; Beacon Drug Company, bottle of toilet water; S. Levy, pair men's silk socks; Howard Smith, half dozen silver individual salt and pepper shakers; Van Andle Specialty Shop, dresser candelabrum; Torrance Pharmacy, gold-filled Eberhard pencil; Sam Rappaport, rubber flower for lady's coat; J. W. Barnes Company, pair lady's silk hose; Ely Dry Goods Company, pair lady's silk hose; Dolly Day Company, tooled leather cigarette case.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ATTEND RECEPTION

The eminent grand commander, Knights Templar, was tendered a reception Tuesday evening at Scotsis Rite Temple in Long Beach. The reception was followed by a banquet and dance at the Virginia Hotel.

Local Knights at the reception and banquet were J. H. Fess, W. H. Stanger, and Jere Calder, who were joined at the dance by Mrs. Mrs. Stanger, and Mrs. Calder.

Nestor Tract Is Off to Good Start

T. J. Nestor announces that he is off to a grand start with his new Torrance tract, having sold two houses the first day and making reservations on two others. He states he is putting in water, gas, lights, grading and graveling the streets at once. All this work will be started this week.

The grand opening of the tract will be Saturday and Sunday, March 26 and 27. Mr. Nestor has ten houses under construction now and will keep on building until the entire tract is closed out. He also states that he has a large rabbitry on the tract. He makes fur garments from the fur rabbit skin, and has a stock of Chinchilla fur pelts with each lot of houses.

The public is invited to the grand opening Saturday and Sunday, March 26 and 27.

WARNS PUBLIC

Envoys Grace, Salvation Army head here, has complained to police that solicitors have been collecting money in Torrance under the guise of Salvation Army workers. Mrs. Grace warns the public to be sure of the identity of persons soliciting money in Torrance.
