Edd and Ollie Horseshoe Champs Edd Huddleston and Ollie Stevenson deserve crowns even if they aren't wearing 'em. Because Edd and Ollie are now the undisputed champion horseshoe pitching pair of this here city of Torrance. Jerry Calder, chief of police, boasted that he and Paekle Paxton could trim any two horseshoe tossers in this here hamlet. Edd and Ollie took exception to this here statement and a match was arranged. The losers were to pay for a luncheon for the victors. Edd and Ollie won hands down. And now the chief says he doesn't want any more ringers. Nobuddy was hurt.

Dolley Issues Call to People Of Torrance to Join in Great Columbia Steel Celebration Harry H. Dolley, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, this week mailed to Torrance people an urgent appeal for everyone to march in the big parade and join in the celebration next Wednesday when the Columbia Steel Corporation's new sheet steel mill will be opened. The letter follows: "Dear Fellow Townsman: 'Tis time to celebrate and we're going to 'put it on' in grand style. 'At 11 a.m. on Wednesday, May 18th, a mammoth whistle will proclaim to the world that the big new two-million-dollar sheet mill of the Columbia Steel Corporation has begun operating. This will be the signal for a gigantic civic celebration to welcome Columbia's gift to Torrance. 'Elaborate preparations have been made for a monster street parade starting at the city hall at 10 o'clock and marching through Los Angeles bankers and industrial executives, will be in town for the opening ceremonies and we want to 'show 'em' how Torrance appreciates its industries. 'At the Columbia plant there will be a short program of welcome following the opening of the plant and then your Chamber of Commerce will serve a 'FREE BARBECUE TO ALL THE FOLKS. The price of the FREE FEED will be to 'march in the parade.' The city will present the Columbia with a beautiful bronze plaque and the barbecue will offer us an opportunity to mingle with the new Columbia men and their families. We want to make them feel welcome and we need you to come and play the host or hostess. 'That night the celebration will be broadcast over KMIC and Torrance will get plenty of advertising if you will help. 'The Torrance Herald is planning a 'COLUMBIA SPECIAL' edition to be issued on Tuesday, May 17th, to exploit the celebration the following day and to advertise the COLUMBIA BARGAIN FESTIVAL in all Torrance stores which will be held the balance of the week. It is hoped that local merchants will appreciate the importance of giving exceptional values on these days—Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday—in order that the initial visit of the Columbia's 450 new families will be favorable and we shall continue to receive their patronage. 'Enthusiastically yours, 'THE TORRANCE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, 'By H. H. DOLLEY, 'Chairman, 'Business Relations Committee'

Nestor Moves His Rabbitry To Tract East of Torrance T. J. Nestor announces he is moving his entire rabbitry from his Compton tracts to Nestoria, on Harbor boulevard (Main-street out of Los Angeles), four miles north of Anaheim street in Wilmington, where he has built a large demonstration building and rabbitry and displays the furs made from his chinchilla and white rabbits. You will see some of the most beautiful coats, stoles, neckpieces, etc., that there are in Los Angeles County, made from these fur-bearing animals. J. E. O'Donnell is drilling a well on his tract and is now down 2000 feet. Mr. O'Donnell thinks he has an excellent chance to get oil at this location, as there is plenty of seepage oil on the surface. Three-room houses, with water, light and gas already in, are being built on Mr. Nestor's tract, and he sells these houses at a small cash payment, balance like rent, and gives 10 chinchilla fur rabbit does and a buck free with each house. Mr. Nestor invites you to come out Saturday or Sunday, May 14 and 15, have lunch with him, and hear one of the best speakers on the fur rabbit industry in Southern California. All free.

Leonard To Talk To Kiwanis Club City Engineer Frank Leonard will be the principal speaker at the luncheon of the Kiwanis Club Friday noon. He will discuss the proposed ornamental lighting system for the city of Torrance.
