METHODIST CHURCH SCENE OF PRETTY WEDDING
One of the prettiest weddings of the year took place Friday evening, when Miss Katherine Wilhelm See, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. See of Los Angeles, became the bride of Theodore Elmer Reeve, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reeve, at the Methodist church.
Maxine Brown, accompanied by Kathleen Wheaton, sang "My Dear." The bride entered to the strains of Lohengrin on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Before an arch of fern and cecel bruner the impressive double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Fred R. A. Young.
The bride was lovely in a gown of white georgette and lace over pink satin, and her veil of tulle and real lace was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and lilies-of-the-valley.
Reinette See, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a period style frock of orchid organdie and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Geneva Holland and Miss Helen Bodley, wore period frocks of pastel flowered organdie over satin, and carried bouquets of sweet peas and rosebuds.
Little Betty Turner, niece of the groom, was flower girl and wore pink organdie. Gaylord Young, dressed in white satin, was ring bearer.
Harold King of Bell, attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Stewart Holland and William Burgenner.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Normandie street, Los Angeles, to which 75 guests were bidden. The home was a profusion of pink and white carnations, and the pink and white color scheme was carried out in detail. A delicious buffet luncheon was served, and the bride made a pretty ceremony of cutting the wedding cake.
Immediately after the reception, the bride and groom left for a honeymoon to various points of interest. They expect to be gone a month and will motor to Yosemite, Portland, Oregon, points in Idaho, Yellowstone and the Grand Canyon. They will be at home in Torrance after August 1.
The bride is a former resident of this city and a graduate of Torrance high school. She has been in Los Angeles for the past year and a half. The groom is an employe of the Union Tool.

For Sunday Trip or Week End Camping
Mocking Bird Canyon, lying ten miles distant from Riverside is at its loveliest during the summer months and a trip thereto at this time is a very enjoyable one, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. From Riverside a paved highway leads to Arlington and from this point Van Buren street is followed. Pavement is traversed over same to within a few feet of the mouth of the canyon. Leading past beautiful Mocking Bird Lake, the road winds and dips around a beautiful avocado grove, thence into the sylvan beauty beyond. The floor of the valley at this time is a mass of blossoms while flowering chaparral adds to the beauty of the surrounding hills. There are numerous "four leaf pines" in this district—a small tree, branching thickly to the ground and having a "bushy" appearance. This species of the pine is very interesting due to the fact that it is somewhat rare, only being found in the United States on the mountain ranges of extreme Southern California. Many evidences are to be found in this canyon of the passing of the red man—he has left the marks of his passing, written with yellow and red pigment on the faces of large granite boulders. One wonders in viewing this primitive paint, which has withstood the ravages of time, what story it tells. Noting the infinite care and patience with which the symbols have been inscribed on the granite background, it is reasonable to believe that whatever the story may be, it must have been well worth the telling! Numerous rocks, blackened by the smoke of campfires are to be seen as well as mortars used by the Indians for grinding. Mocking Bird Spring, once a much larger body of water, nestles among willows. The road winds past a few ranches—many of which have been abandoned, and through a section where many once famous mines are located—including the Good Hopes, once owned by Helen Gould and the Galvan tin mines, thence to Perris and Elsinore. A good road now leads around to the opposite shore of Lake Elsinore. The lake is now seven miles long and three miles wide, and from some unknown phenomenon, the lake is growing larger each year.

It's a Good Idea,--
To let your Torrance friends service your car before you leave on your vacation. Don't run the risk of having to buy from strangers on the highway. Buy your new tires, and have your greasing and repairing done by local firms before you leave. Then if everything is not satisfactory, you can come back and get a square deal.

Arrowhead Route Good
The Waterman Canyon route to Lake Arrowhead is now in splendid condition. Leaving San Bernardino, pavement is traversed for 7 miles, thence good oiled mountain road up grade to the Crestline, then down to the lake via either Blue Jay or Strawberry Canyons or Burnt Mill Canyon.

For a Few Days Camping and Fishing
A pleasant trip through a very interesting section of the country is the one beginning at Los Angeles and taking one over the Ridge route through the San Joaquin Valley, to the North Fork of the Kaweah, 239 miles distant. At the junction of the rivers, one mile above Three Rivers, motorists should cross the bridge and continue up the North Fork for 10.8 miles to the location of an old fishing camp. Here machines may park and fisherman may begin trying their skill in the North Fork. The road up North Fork is narrow but can be easily driven by one accustomed to mountain driving. All along the main Kaweah River from Lemon Cove to Three Rivers are to be found some splendid camping places with shady trees and the big river right in front of your door. The trout in this section are all gamey and the varieties are: Rainbow, Steelhead and Loch Leven, all ranging from 8 to 14 inches in length.
