One of the highlights of the last meeting of the Woman's Club of Keystone was the interesting report of the district convention held in Glendale which was given by the delegate from this club, Mrs. George Nahmens. This account was well related and proved to be of great interest to all the members. After some discussion it was agreed to have refreshments on the date of the last meeting of the year, at which time the new officers of the club will be installed by one of the federation chairmen. Mrs. S. S. Tappell was appointed as chairman for the refreshments for that afternoon and Mrs. Charles LeBoeur, program chairman, reported that she was working on the program for that day. Mrs. Charles LeBoeur gave a short talk on the subject of the afternoon, "California Birds."

Forrest, president of the Carson Street Parent-Teachers' Association, attended the regular meeting of the Gardena-Wilmington Council held on Thursday at the Gardena High school, Gardena, at which time Mrs. Roy Winkle, counselor, presided at the business meeting at 10 o'clock. A delicious chicken luncheon was served at noon for the members of the council. This was followed by the mass meeting when delegates from the eleven Parent-Teacher organizations in the council were present as well as a large number of other members of the various organizations. Mrs. Roy Winkle was elected unanimously as counselor for another year. Mrs. Sutherland, tenth district chairman of child welfare gave a very interesting account of the expenditures in her department for the welfare of the children in the schools covered by the Parent-Teacher organization in the tenth district. In her talk she said that last month they had a $9000 milk bill for milk which was donated from the organization to the needy children.

Owing to the unemployment situation she said that the funds were not coming in to the district from the smaller organizations and urged that ever dollar that is not needed to carry on the work of the smaller organizations be sent to the district to take care of the needy children. An offering of $87.30 was received at the last district meeting by those who were present. 35% of the children who receive help are American children. Mrs. Sutherland said, contrary to the belief of the majority of folk. Three hundred free breakfasts are being given each and every school day to children who are undernourished.

Among the numbers on the after-noon's program was the Gardena-Wilmington Council chorus who rendered two selections, "Voices of the Woods" and "California's Calling You," words and music written by Mrs. Anna Irene Jenkins, one of the presidents of the council. This song, which is a rousing one, will be sung at the state convention next week in Riverside. Those attending the mass meeting from the Carson Street Association, other than the president, were Mrs. W. L. Brown, Mrs. George Tomlin, Mrs. H. H. Barnard, Mrs. John R. Hilpert, and Mrs. E. P. Typhoid Fever Menace Almost Vanishing Here

Credit For Healthy Status Is Given to Pure Water and Milk Supplies in State

By JAMES ROWE
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 SACRAMENTO, Cal. (UP)—No higher praise can be given California's milk and water supply than the citing of typhoid fever death figures in the state during 1929. Reports just released by the state department of public health, show that deaths from this disease reached the lowest point in 23 years—only 35 persons succumbing. During 1928, deaths resulting from typhoid numbered 105. This new record is a remarkable decrease since it creates an average of only 2.3 deaths per 100,000 population for the state.

"This remarkable record speaks well for the safety and dependability of California water and milk supplies," said Dr. Walter M. Dicke, state director of public health. "This figure discloses the fact that California is rapidly working towards a complete solution of her impure water and tuberculin infected milk problems."

State authorities think it only a matter of years until the disease is made practically extinct in the state. With continued vigilance, California will be able to at least maintain if not better her present record indefinitely, authorities claim.

In former years, the most numerous deaths were caused by a serious outbreak in infected milk supplies. Danger of this sort has now been practically done away with, since creation of state laws governing pasteurization and sanitary inspection service.

Remarkable progress in control of the disease is shown in compared 1906 figures with present death records. Twenty-three years ago there were 627 deaths or 34.9 per 100,000 population. During 1929, reports from 38 counties showed them free of typhoid fatalities. Thus a remarkable average of approximately five deaths for each county reporting fatalities, was maintained.

THAT CAR OF YOURS

When checking your car, don't overlook the shock absorber, an expensive, if allowed to become loose, these units often cause an annoying rattle.

Before attempting to start an engine with the crank, check to see if there is enough clearance for your hand. Often, after numerous accessories are installed, there is not enough clearance left for the crank.

The windshield wiper should not be used when the glass is dry and dirty. The accumulated grit on the windshield will scratch the glass and cause annoying reflections when driving at night.

If brake drums on your car are thin, it is advisable to replace them when reining the brakes, rather than attempt to true them by undercutting. A thin drum will heat up much quicker causing brakes to "freeze."

The engine in your car should be cleaned frequently for two reasons. One is the increased fire hazard when motor is covered with grease and oil, and another important reason is the possibility of oil leaks at gaskets and oil connections going unnoticed.

Motorists long have been warned not to touch the head of the speedometer and not even to let the average mechanic work on it. Speedometers are delicate instruments, like fine watches. But not even a jeweler can work on the former. It takes a special form of calibrating equipment and, usually, only the speedometer specialist has it.
