There won't be a man in "Women Like Men," a picture now in production. And there will be no cursing, yet it is a story of war. Girls must not forget they are girls. "Women Like Men" is based on the experiences in the ambulance corps of nine girls. How different from other war pictures: none of the frenzied cursing of soldiers near death; instead, clever repartee and dialogue.

Here are the nine girls; EVELYN BRENT—the lead: A girl who knows what she wants in life and goes after it.

LILLYAN TASHMAN—the vamp: Three divorced husbands at home.

LOUISE FAZENDA—the comedian: Just a girl from Kansas looking for a love affair in France. JUNE CLYDE—the sweet girl: Dainty and not strong enough to enjoy the hardships of war.

IRENE RICH—the captain of the group: Capable.

TWO TWINS—girls from New York: Yet to be chosen.

SNOOPY—the trouble maker: Yet to be chosen.

SOUTHERN GIRL—just a type: Yet to be chosen.

The director of the picture is William Beaudine. The company producing it is Liberty Pictures. Beaudine also is associate producer.

"How I'm going to handle so much temperamental, I don't know," Beaudine laughed. "I am hanging up a big whip on the set and the first one of those girls who needs it is going to get it."

He said that not a male face will be seen in "Women Like Men."

"I think we are going to have a great picture," Beaudine said. "The public likes the unusual. The pictures made with no women in the cast have been successful. We feel sure this one will, too."

From a modern point of view, a comparison of Venus and Loretta Young, of the films, is most interesting. Loretta is typical of womanhood now in favor.

Venus would tip the scales at 165 pounds (this is conjecture based upon her measurements) while Miss Young weighs 96.

A tape measure around Venus' neck would stop at 17 1/2 inches and Miss Young's at 13 1/2.

The waistline would show 36 against 28 and bust 45 1/2 against 32.

New Electric Refrigerator Is On Display

F. L. Parks, of the Torrance Plumbing Company, is displaying the new Leonard Electric refrigerator with the scientific Leonard "chillometer" this week. This new type of refrigeration is the climax of 50 years of home refrigeration experience and 16 years of electric development by the Leonard company, Parks states.

The "chillometer" is a switch-board that obtains varying cold in exactly 20 seconds for fridges, mouses, salads and for fast-freezing Leonard's electric 42 ice cubes. The "chillometer" and the 25 per cent extra insulation combine to provide certified refrigeration—constant, controlled cold in the correct degree for food safety and flavor.

Parks invites all housewives to inspect the new model, which is priced at $185, terms $19 down, 12 to 24 months to pay the balance.

"The Criminal Code" Opens Sunday Here

The Torrance theater will show for two days beginning Sunday, an all-talking Columbia picture which is regarded as the prize screen capture of the season. This gripping romance, "The Criminal Code," is from Martin Flavin's smash Broadway hit which won the Theater Club Trophy as the best play of the year.

The story is particularly timely, one and one that started even the blasé New Yorkers. It is promised as a powerful love story with a new slant. It is essentially a romance for it is based upon the overpowering love of a youthful convict for the daughter of the warden of a prison. The polarized love scenes of the play aroused the emotions of sophisticated Broadway.

Walter Huston, the star of such well known motion picture successes as "The Virginian" and "Abraham Lincoln," plays the leading role in "The Criminal Code." His performance has been hailed by critics as sensational. Phillips Holmes is said to give a portrait of a sensitive youth in prison conditions. Constance Cummings, who plays the feminine lead, makes her first appearance in motion pictures and is acclaimed a distinct "find."
