CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
Christ Jesus' statement, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away," constitute the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter," Sunday, September 20, in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Responsive Reading presents portions of the Master's Sermon on the Mount, and includes Jesus' words: "Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. . . Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them." A Scriptural selection cites Paul's teaching, "For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,) but to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him." A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, says, "The three great verities of Spirit, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience.—Spirit possessing all power, filling all space, constituting all Science,—contradict forever the belief that matter can be actual."

Evangelist Speaks Here Next Sunday
Jesse R. Kellems of Washington, one of the foremost evangelists of the Christian Church Brotherhood, will supply the pulpit at the Torrance Christian church next Sunday, September 20, at both services. Evangelist Kellems is on a short visit to Southern California at the invitation of the pastor of the church, Rev. George Elder, consented to preach for him.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH TO HAVE "ROLL CALL DAY"
Next Sunday, September 20, will be the annual "roll call day" of the Torrance Christian church. An attempt will be made to secure the attendance of the entire local membership. The outstanding feature in this special service, beginning at 10:50 a. m., will be the reading of the church roll and the answering when the names are called.

ANNUAL FOOD SHOW TO BE HELD IN L. A.

By C. N. P. A., Inc. Service California's proud boast of being the nation's greatest market basket will be amply verified at the Seventh Annual Food and Household Show which opens in Los Angeles in the Ambassador auditorium, Monday, September 21. Holding high rank as a factor in lightening household burdens, the show conducted by the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association has become a popular institution which attracts a daily attendance of well above 30,000 persons throughout the six days of the show.

Scores of new edible products will make their initial appearance at the show, and whether a person "lives to eat" or "eats to live" the almost limitless array of tempting displays will help thousands solve the question of "what to eat."

To Show Three Days Proper diet will be strongly emphasized throughout the food show by an army of expert demonstrators bent on intriguing appetites with viands prepared from food products forming a part of the displays featured in the various exhibits.

Myriad entertainment features of novel character will be coupled with the event in which are cooperating more manufacturers and distributors of food products than have ever participated in a Pacific Coast display. Each day will present special programs directed by the home economics department heads of the respective local newspapers.

On three days of the food show, September 21, 22 and 23, the California Retail Grocers' and Merchants' Association will hold its thirty-second annual convention. More than 600 delegates will be in attendance from practically every community of the state, while many others will be unofficially present from Washington, Oregon, Utah and Arizona. New California laws sponsored by independent tradesmen will provide lively subjects for discussion, it is predicted.
