Honeymoon Secret of Newlyweds

Dr. and Mrs. Alden W. Smith, nee Olive McKenzie, two days married, are enjoying a secret honeymoon trip today whose destination, location or whereabouts, strangely enough, is not known to even their most intimate friends. "Same place in northern California," was the only indication the young married couple gave of their journey after their beautiful wedding Tuesday evening at the Central Evangelical church.

Following the ceremony, the bride was attired in a charming going-away ensemble of royal blue chiffon velvet, matching hat and shoes and gray accessories. They departed at once, leaving their friends and relatives to speculate on their objective and to recount the details of the wedding ceremony.

At the church, the bride was beautifully costumed in a fitted wedding gown of eggshell satin with veil of Voile de Marie and in place with orange blossoms and pearls. Long white gloves, silver slippers and an imported Bretonne lace handkerchief completed the ensemble. She carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bride's attendants were attired alike in gowns fashioned of taffeta in harmonizing pastel shades with Empress Eugenie hats and matching accessories.

On 10-Day Journey
Mrs. Helen Shaffer was matron of honor and wore turquoise taffeta with fan-shaped bouquet of yellow roses and pink sweet peas. Miss Hazel Clark was maid of honor, wearing coral taffeta with matching accessories and carrying Tallman roses with white sweet peas, while Miss Martha Smith, sister of the groom, served as bridesmaid in green taffeta and carried pink roses with orchid sweet peas. Little June Summers in pale blue taffeta was flower girl, distributing petals from a silver basket. Mr. Roger Sherman of Long Beach attended the groom as best man and Dr. Don Jaques of Redlands, Jimmy Fos of Compton and Harry Shaffer ushered.

Miss Kathryn Buffington accompanied C. C. Curtis singing "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me." Mrs. Bertha Reeves of Manhattan Beach, former music teacher of the bride, played the Wedding March from Lohengrin as Miss McKenzie entered alone.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith expect to be at home to their friends, corner of Sonoma and Ampala avenues, in about 10 days, it was learned.

TEA HONORS BRIDE AT SISTER'S HOME
One of the smart pre-nuptial affairs given for Miss McKenzie was a bridge tea which her sister, Mrs. Clarence Ingold, gave at her home on Acadia street, Saturday.

Mrs. Ingold was assisted by Dr. Ingold's sister, Mrs. W. H. Scott, of Glendale. Yellow tea roses and maidenhair fern were used at the tea table and throughout the rooms and green and white were cleverly carried out in accessories and menu. Diminutive white towers in green holders served as favors and when lighted added a festive note to the decorative arrangement. Covers were placed for the honoree, Miss Olive McKenzie, Miss Margaret Tiffany, Miss Martha Logan of Compton, Miss Faye Brockman and Miss Hazel Clark, and Mesdames Harry Shaffer, Ralph Satchell, George Morgan, Herbert Summers, F. H. Clark, W. H. Scott. Bridge honors were awarded Mrs. F. H. Clark, and consolation, Miss Faye Brockman. During the afternoon the bride-elect displayed her trousseau.

SHOWER HONORS MATRON
The home of Mrs. William Burgener on Madrid avenue was the setting for a prettily appointed shower last week honoring Mrs. F. C. Beck. Autumn blossoms in profusion enhanced the attractiveness of the rooms and favors fashioned into baby bassinets accented a pink and white color arrangement. Mrs. Beck was presented with many lovely gifts by the assembled guests. Included were Mrs. H. L. Bodley, Mrs. J. O. Bishop, Mrs. O. E. Hall, Mrs. L. Fransen and Miss J. Ebert, Mrs. H. M. Tolson, Rose Page Johnson, Mrs. Jack Kiefer, Miss Marion Wright, Mrs. George Morgan, Mrs. Homer Morgan, Mrs. Clyde Totjen, Mrs. Frances Snodgrass, Mrs. Mary Jones, Mrs. T. E. Reeve, Mrs. E. N. Tomkins, Miss Doris Spoon, Caroline King, Ethel Snyder and Helen Burgener.

PHILATHEAS MEET AT MORGAN HOME
Mrs. George Morgan was hostess when she entertained members of the Philathea Club at her home on Arlington avenue recently. Following a pot luck supper a social evening was enjoyed. Present were Rosalie Morgan, Alice Totten, Alice Beck, Frances Snodgrass, Mary Jones, Katherine Reeve, Doris Spoon, Mrs. E. N. Tomkins, Caroline King, Ethel Snyder and Helen Burgener.

The donations may be left with any member of the Auxiliary.

Twenty members of the Torrance Auxiliary attended a joint installation meeting at the Redondo Post on Monday night.

CANDLELIGHT CEREMONY USED AT DOUBLE WEDDING

The Congregational church of Redondo, provided the setting for a double ceremony of unusual weddings when Miss Mildred Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barker of Redondo Beach, became the bride of Fred A. Harder of Torrance and Miss Marjorie Burkhardt of Redondo was united in marriage with George W. Lynch in a double ceremony of unusual charm last Friday evening. Rev. Owen Unstead officiated in the presence of more than 400 friends. Autumn blossoms and foliage used in profusion and myriad candles enhanced the beauty of the occasion.

The brides, dressed alike in gowns of eggshell satin, carried shower bouquets of white bridal roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Kathryn Barker, in pale blue georgette with pink accessories and carrying a bouquet of roses, attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Margaret Barton of Los Angeles and Marie Walters of Hermosa Beach; while Mrs. John McMillan of Newport, wearing yellow net and carrying yellow roses, served Miss Burkhardt as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Cecelia Adams of Redondo and Dorothy Lynch, of Los Angeles, sister of the groom. The bridesmaids, dressed alike in fitted gowns of georgette and net in pastel tones, wore mits and carried Colonial bouquets.

Mr. Harder, who is manager of the General Petroleum service station on Sartori Ave., was attended by Jack Raby of Torrance, and Mrs. Lynch, of Los Angeles, served his brother as best man, and Ellis Harder, Anson Putnam, Richard Burkhardt and John McMillan ushered. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The two couples then left for a honeymoon trip to Lake Arrowhead. Mrs. Harder was charming in a tailored model in dark blue with black and white accessories, and Mrs. Lynch wore a brown ensemble with contrasting accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Harder are at home to their friends at the Cravens apartments.

Torrance Flower Shop Celebrating Its 7th Anniversary; All Prices Reduced

Seven years ago—October 4, 1924—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stevenson and their son, Adrian, opened a flower booth in the Harry Paige Grocery Store, which was located on El Prado. The Stevensons called their little corner in the grocery market, "The Torrance Flower Shop," and from this modest beginning has grown the fine, modern florist store at 1331 El Prado.

Enjoy to moving to its present quarters, the Torrance Flower Shop was located in the Friscilla Beauty Shop adjoining, but on January 12, 1925, the Stevensons decided to have a store building devoted exclusively to flowers and the present building was leased. The Stevensons are among the earliest Torrance residents, moving to this city in 1913. They first rented a house on Gramercy avenue but soon built the splendid residence which they now occupy at 1229 Portola. These folks are not only flower-merchants but flower-lovers as well as is shown by their beautiful garden and pool which graces their home.

Free Roses
In celebration of the seventh anniversary of the Torrance Flower Shop, every woman who calls at the store Saturday, October 3, will be given a beautiful rose. In keeping with the trend of the times, the Torrance Flower Shop also announces a substantial reduction in prices, effective at once.

APARTMENT FIRE CAUSES $150 DAMAGE SATURDAY

A fire in an apartment at the Cravens apartment might have caused considerable damage if it had not been discovered before it got much headway late Saturday night. It is believed that a cigar or cigarette dropped in a davenport in the apartment rented to L. W. Brownly and a Mr. McIntosh caused the blaze which did about $150 damage to the room, according to fire department reports.

Father's Wish Is Obeyed; Daughter Graduates, Weds

"Don't bring home a wedding certificate before you bring home your nurse's certificate," could have been the admonition given Miss Vera Flora Graham by her father, A. S. Graham, local dry cleaner and tailor, several months ago when the young lady informed her parents of her intention of marrying.

So Miss Graham presented Mr. and Mrs. Graham with both certificates on September 16, a day after she graduated from the Orange County hospital—but it was learned this week, she had wedded Harry Van Gorkum, Santa Ana, superintendent of an auto service, April 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Gorkum had kept their marriage a profound secret until Mrs. Van Gorkum had graduated. She plans to take a postgraduate course in a special branch of nurses' work.
