American Legion Auxiliary News

In the future the Auxiliary will meet the first and third Mondays of each month.

The annual Old Maids' convention was called to order Tuesday evening by Spinster Dorothy Harder. Spinster Barkdull gave an address of welcome and Spinster Myers, the "chaplain," made a plaintive plea that soon all present might be wedded. The maids were all attired in their most catching garments. Spinster Murphy gave a list of the town's suggested that each send a self-addressed envelope to Spinster Ways and means of enquiring who were thoroughly discussed. Spinster Alma Smith suggested that the secretary, Spinster Peterson, write each one and ascertain his views on matrimony. Professor McVicker demonstrated his newest invention by rejuvenating several of the group but finally wrecked his machine and caused a general commotion when Spinster Chandlee asked the impossible. It is said. A glee club, directed by Spinster Scott, was well received. Prizes were awarded to Velouria Murphy, "the most typical old maid," and Virginia Scott, "the most amusing." As 1932 is Leap Year, it was last week.
