Ovens... of New Natural Gas Ranges ... Are Insulated

Bake in comfort on the warmest day. Heat stays in the insulated and ventilated oven of a new natural gas range.

There is also the advantage of economy. Heat is confined to the food which is cooking, instead of radiating throughout the kitchen. The result is a decided saving in fuel. Natural gas, the most economical of modern fuels, is more efficient than ever in the new ranges. An entire meal can be cooked for as little as a quarter of a cent a person a meal.

See the display of your dealer or gas company, and look for the Blue Star Seal of the American Gas Association Testing Laboratory on the new natural gas range you buy.
