Pupils of Fern Street School Give Program

A very pretty program was given by the pupils of the Fern street school at the meeting of the Torrance Parent Teachers Association on Tuesday afternoon under the direction of Miss Rita Mowry. Pupils of the kindergarten and first grade opened the program with a song, "Our Flag." This was followed by a solo, "The Toy Shop," by Neva June Lowen, six years old, who charmed the association by her singing and acting of the different toys named in the song. A pageant, "Red, White, and Blue," closed the program. Those taking part were Robert Lewellen, William Thomas and Charles Daley, who told the meaning of the red stripe; Alice Ruth Degeber, Magna Semenezet and Elizabeth Ferguson, spoke of the white stripes; Truman Brown, Gerald MacDonald and Guy Claire, Jr., represented the blue field of the flag, while Ruth Colburn, Karna Delinger and Chihori Ikezoe, the stars of the flag, giving the meaning of the colors and stars and telling how to be true to their teaching. Jean Smith represented Columbia; she was attended by Gertrude Brist and Dorothy Interhill, who presented those taking the principal parts with flags. During the short intermission when the characters were taking their places, a chorus, composed of the other members of the school, sang "America" and "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," closing with the "Star Spangled Banner" in which all took part, while those on the platform waved small flags. Mrs. Orville E. Hall, president of the association, who represented them at the state convention in

Richard Dix In New Epic of the Air at Torrance

By special arrangement, all ladies will be admitted to the Torrance Theatre on Wednesday night each week for the low price of 25 cents. This price will be maintained on this night only, other nights in the week the regular price of 50 cents will prevail. Beginning Sunday night, and remaining for three nights, Richard Dix will be seen in another of those thrilling, spectacular aviation pictures, "The Lost Squadron." Like most Dix starring vehicles, the film abounds in action to please the men, plus a romance that will have a strong appeal for women.

Based on the stirring adventures of the film "stunt aviators—the men who risk their lives for the sake of injecting thrills in pictures—the film tells the story of those nerveless danger seekers in relation to actual movie making. Thus "The Lost Squadron" departs from the accepted and stereotyped form of story-telling and represents a double drama of great strength and suspense. The unusualness of the film is seen also in the characterizations. Mary Astor plays the role of a screen actress who is married to an eccentric director, Erich von Stroheim. The director is the arch villain, a man who has no qualms over the tragedies of crashes and injuries incidental to the making of thrilling air epics. Other roles are played by Dorothy Jordan, Ingeborg; Robert Armstrong and Joel McCrea, as film stunt aviators; Hugh Herbert, as a mechanic and Ralph Ince as a detective. Dix adds still another glorious page to his record of screen achievement in "The Lost Squadron," is highly recommended as entertainment of the most satisfactory type.

Centinela Group Brings Program at Local Church

Sunday evening will be men's night at Central Evangelical church of Torrance. During the past month the men of the church have been taking the evening meeting, at which time they have been presenting outside speakers to the people of Torrance, who have been heartily received by those who have attended the meetings.

Sunday evening, May 29th, the Brotherhood again presents outside talent. This time the field department of the Centinela Brotherhood will be present and take charge of the meeting. These men are spending a great deal of time in the organization of new groups in the locality and are coming well recommended. They come with a speaker and a troupe of male singers, who will offer a number of musical numbers. These men are well trained in this work and will offer an evening of entertainment which will be long remembered. This will be the last evening service that the Brotherhood will have until the fall, at which time they expect to offer a strong list of speakers and musical numbers.

SIGNS OF BETTER TIMES*
*The decline in important business indicators and in commodity prices checked and in some cases ceased... Merchandise cartloadings have risen moderately and as the month closes steel production is slowly expanding... More significant are the first signs that Federal Reserve efforts to start credit expansion are beginning to take effect... Reduction of money rates in foreign centers also reflects further easing of financial tension... If this tendency continues it will be an encouraging indication that the stormy winter is past and spring has begun...

Nighthawks Play San Pedro Here Tomorrow Night

In a fast, snappy game at the Torrance ball park Friday night, the Nighthawks trounced the Consolidated Lumber nine from Wilmington, 12 to 4. Atwood, the Nighthawks chucker, pitched a steady game and backed by some fine fielding held the Wilmington outfit down in great fashion. The Nighthawks unleashed some powerful hitting to put the game on ice.

Tomorrow night the local team will battle the San Pedro Hardware team. The game will start at 8 p. m. On Wednesday night, June 1, the Consolidated Lumber outfit will return for another try-out and on Friday, June 3, the Harbor Dye Works will send up their best to battle it out with the Torrance boys.

No admission charge for these games is made, but seats in the grandstand are free to all comers. The Nighthawks team is made up of local ball players, all well known to the home fans. The line-up includes, Bob Lessing, first base; Harry Phillips, third base; Stanley Creighton, left field; Edwards, center field; Harry Atwood, pitcher; Leonard, right field; Quigley, short stop; Bartlett, catcher; Zuvet, second base.

Fresno, gave an interesting report of that meeting. Guy Holliday, principal of the Fern street school, announced that he had had word from Mr. Conrad of the Los Angeles school board, who said that everything was all right to proceed with the work on the new building at once. Mrs. Hall announced that the paper drive netted the P. T. A. $47.73. Ten dollars was voted by the executive board to the clinic at Wilmington. June 17 was set as the date of the luncheon to be given to the teachers by the board. Mrs. E. E. Banks presented the P. T. A. with $3.00 for the milk fund for the children.
