

"WHITE WOMAN"

Carole Lombard in the exotic title role of "White Woman," latest Paramount picture, coming on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 12 and 13, to the Torrance Theatre. Charles Laughton heads the cast which also includes Charles Bickford and Kent Taylor.

SCHOOLBOYS ARE INGENIOUS

MODESTO, Calif. (U.P.)—The aeronautics class of the Modesto high school today had a wind tunnel for testing model airplanes. The tunnel was built by the class. It was said to be the first constructed by a California high school group.

GIANT DEER KILLED

PORTLAND, Ore. (U.P.)—The "granddaddy of the uplands," a giant 200-pound deer which for years had eluded the bullets of covetous hunters in central Oregon has at last fallen. His horns, with 25 points, now rests over the mantle of Louis Lang, who bagged the buck near Burns.

Spectacular Scenes, Lively Tunes, Glorified Girls, In Smash Hit At the Torrance Theatre Tonight

Jimmy Cagney, erstwhile gangster par excellence, dances for the first time on the screen in "Footlight Parade," at the Torrance Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 7, 8 and 9. Ruby Keeler is seen with Jimmy.

Two hundred and fifty girls. Big girls. Little girls. Plump girls. Slim girls. Blondes, brunettes, red heads. They were all engaged by Busby Berkeley for his amazing dance ensembles in "Footlight Parade," the big Warner Bros. musical picture which comes to the Torrance Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 7, 8 and 9.

These production numbers are supplied with music by two teams of song writers, one of them Harry Warren and Al Dubin, the other Sammy Fain and Irving Kahal. The "Honeymoon Hotel" number makes use of a large chorus, with Ruby Keeler and Dick Powell as principals. In "Shanghai Lil" Jimmy Cagney dances and sings for the first time since he came to the screen from Broadway. Ruby Keeler is his partner in this number.

"By a Waterfall" is the most spectacular of the numbers in "Footlight Parade"—and perhaps the most spectacular ever attempted in a screen musical. A huge swimming pool and mountain waterfall were constructed for its opening sequences on a Warner Bros. sound stage—with a fountain of gigantic proportions adding to the brilliance and magnificence of the scene. A forest pool and waterfall, filled with 200 woodland nymphs, dissolves into a "glorified" marble plunge, where the same girls, in special underwater costumes, evolve ingenious figures in the water. Ruby Keeler and Dick Powell sing the number.

"Sittin' on a Backyard Fence" presents Ruby Keeler and Billy Taft as principals in a number inspired by a cat's walk. A large as kittens and cats, prawl high fences under an enormous moon while Miss Keeler sings this contagious tune.

"Footlight Parade" is a riotous comedy romance of theatrical life written by Manuel Seff and James Seymour and directed by Lloyd Bacon. In the cast, besides those mentioned, are Joan Blondell, Frank McHugh, Guy Kibbee, Ruth Donnelly, Hugh Herbert and Claire Dodd.
