

Inglewood Judge Is Recommended By Old Friends

Judge A. F. Monroe Seeks Justice of Peace Bench In Larger Township

Judge A. F. "Bert" Monroe, the only justice of the peace that Inglewood township ever had, and who headed the list of all candidates in the primary election recently must again submit his candidacy to the voters of the district on Tuesday next. Judge Monroe was forced to run off with the runner-up in the November 6 election. He will appear as a candidate to residents of certain sections of the newly enlarged Inglewood township for the first time. The towns of Gardena, Torrance, Redondo Beach, Manhattan Beach and El Segundo will vote on him for the first time, as will residents of La Rambla township and of the unincorporated area of Lomita and north of Gardena proper.

His home precincts, which include Inglewood, Lennox, Hawthorne and Lawndale are expected to give him the customary handsome majority which they have accorded him regularly for nearly 20 years.

In commenting on his candidacy, friends of Judge Monroe state that "he is one of the best known jurists by reason of his long service on the bench in Los Angeles county and is held in high regard and esteem by the legal profession. He has an unusual record of few reversals, and is known as a fearless, courageous judge who tempers justice with mercy as the occasion warrants." "He conducts court in a building, especially constructed for that purpose, for Los Angeles county, in Inglewood, but has said he will do everything in his power to give the best service to the entire district by holding court in as many places as possible for the convenience of the people.

"Judge Monroe has submitted his candidacy on his record of nearly 20 years and not on a partisan or sectional lines," his friends point out.

Watchman Wanted At High School

An opportunity for the "right kind of a man" to work on a share basis and participate in the return from a sizable flock of chickens and garden produce in exchange for watchman service, is offered by S. E. Merrill, instructor in agriculture at the Torrance high school. Mr. Merrill can be found in the school garden during the morning or early afternoon.

CHESS

By A. L. PAUL

"CHESS AS YOU LIKE IT" This slogan has been adopted by the Torrance Chess Club as applying its activities. Visitors are always most cordially welcome at the regular Monday and Thursday evening meetings in the Recreation Center, 1318 Cabrillo avenue.

Items of news, inquiries, comments and criticisms for this column are earnestly solicited.

There have been of late a number of out-of-town visitors to the Torrance club meetings who have enthusiastically participated in the club's activities. A rapid transit tourney was held recently in which Mr. P. Petersen of Lomita won first place.

No fewer than a hundred players took part in a recent week-end tournament at Zandvoort, Holland. They were arranged in 25 groups of four each, ranging from two groups containing players of master strength down to three groups in the third class section.

In the recent tournament at Syracuse, New York, E. S. Turvey of Washington, D. C., offered two prizes for the most brilliant games contested in the tourney. Albert Fox and William K. Wimsatt, both of Washington, were asked by the tournament committee to act as judges.

Fox and Wimsatt have reached their decisions after careful examination of all the games submitted, and have awarded a brilliancy prize to Samuel Reshevsky, champion of the Western Chess Association, for his win against Denker, and to Fine for his brilliant win against Monticelli, the Italian champion.

Following is the score of one of the prize-winning brilliancies: BUDAPEST DEFENSE

Reshevsky (white)	Denker (black)
1. P-Q4	N-K3
2. P-QB4	P-K4
3. PxP	N-N5
4. P-K4	P-Q3
5. B-K2	NxKP
6. P-B4	N-N5
7. N-KB3	N-QB3

Quoting from the Australian: "General satisfaction will be felt by all chess players throughout Australia that if the necessary finance can be arranged, Dr. Alekhine, the world's chess champion since 1927, will visit Australia this year. Part of his program would be participation in the Melbourne Centenary congress at Christmas."

We would like to especially hear of results arrived at by all those attempting to solve the problem given in this column last week. It is said in this problem that there is only one line of play, yet we know of many who have found that line most difficult to determine.

We hear repeat the conditions of the problem. The position: 4N3; 8; 7p; 3P3; 3B3; 4P3; 2B5; 8. White to play and mate in four moves.

A CHESS PRIMER Lesson V.

The Knight, the only remaining piece to be discussed in this series (we have yet to describe the movements of the Pawn, but it should be born in mind that the Pawn is not classified as a "piece"), possesses a movement rather more complicated than that of the other pieces, but with a little careful study of the following description the student should have no difficulty in mastering it. Let us first consider a rectangle on the board composed of two rows of three squares each. This rectangle may be considered either vertically or horizontally. Now if we place the Knight on any one of the four corner squares of our rectangle the piece may then be moved from the corner to a rectangle it stands to the corner square diagonally opposite. Or let us put it another way. The Knight moves at once two squares in one direction and one square the other direction. It should here be noted that the Knight always moves to a square of a different color from the one it occupies. The move may be described as a rectangular one, as the Knight goes over one square diagonally and then comes to rest at the furthest-away corner of a rectangle. In capturing, if any square to which the Knight may legally move is occupied by an opponent's piece or pawn, the Knight moves to that square after the opponent's piece or pawn has been removed from the board. The capture is not compulsory. The Knight is the only piece which has the right to jump over pieces of his own color or over the opposing pieces.

Next week we shall discuss the movements of the Pawn.

HARBOR DISTRICT CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE
The Harbor District Chambers of Commerce will meet next Thursday evening, November 8, at the Recreation Park clubhouse, Long Beach. James Collins, manager of the Long Beach harbor department will speak.

Red Cross Aids In 103 Disasters During Past Year, Says Director

Red Cross relief units were called upon to render assistance in 103 domestic, insular and foreign disasters last year, Douglas H. Moore, roll call director in the Pacific area, advises Mrs. Flora Waters, chairman, as members of Torrance mobilize for the annual Red Cross roll call, November 11.

In connection with wide-spread disaster relief activities, Mr. Moore says: "The Red Cross now has a relief worker at Nome, Alaska, where he sped by airplane to give aid to the stricken city which was swept by fire on September 17."

Mr. J. W. Richardson, director of disaster relief at the Pacific branch office in San Francisco, has compiled interesting statistics on disasters in the Pacific area as well as those in other territory. This compilation shows that the Red Cross expended $1,915,100 for further improvement of the Los Angeles-Pomona lateral. Another improvement in the vicinity of Long Beach provides for the grading and paving of Cerritos avenue at the easterly city limits of Long Beach between State street and Los Angeles street. This project will mark the first work by the state on this new secondary highway and will cover a distance of 4.0 miles.

Hepner, Oregon, and a fire at Dorris, California.

Expenditures in the seven disasters totaled $227,700. The state of Washington co-operated with the Red Cross in relieving distress of flood refugees and contributed $102,165 toward the fund to help disaster victims in 16 counties.

Community Service Elects Officers

Rev. O. D. Wonder was elected president for the ensuing year of the Torrance Community Service Association at a meeting held Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce. Other officers are J. W. Post, vice president; J. W. Leach, treasurer; L. J. Gilmeister, secretary. Directors of the Association are H. R. Smith, Bert W. Lanz, C. T. Rippey and Sam Levy. The Community Service Association has charge of the drive for funds for charitable purposes in the city.

SECOND LOW BIDDER GETS SHOP CONTRACT

Reconstruction of the shop building at Gardena high school will be done by D. A. Loomis, Los Angeles contractor, by decision of the Los Angeles board of education this week. Loomis was second low bidder at $9749, but the low bid was irregular, it was decided.
