

Red Roosters Painted White
WILSON, N. C. (U.P.)—L. H. Williams, chicken fancier, who specializes in Rhode Island reds, ordered a negro helper to paint a chicken roost. When Williams went to inspect the job, he found several of his finest roosters painted white.

Proclamation

As mayor of the City of Torrance, I call on all music lovers of the community to note the grand opening of the Hollywood Bowl's season of summer concerts, the celebrated "Symphonies Under the Stars," next Tuesday evening, July 16. For the 14th consecutive year this notable series of programs will be open to the public. The great array of talent to be presented will draw thousands to the Bowl to enjoy the world's finest music, played under the most enchanting conditions. The week of July 16 has been designated as Hollywood Bowl Week, and during that time a special invitation is given to those of surrounding communities to visit the Bowl, and I urge all Torrance citizens who can do so to attend at this time.

SCOTT R. LUDLOW, Mayor.

Woman Absolved In Traffic Death

Mrs. A. Yule, 32 Orchard Place, Santa Barbara, was exonerated from responsibility in the death of John Clardy, negro, who was found dead on the new state highway last Friday morning, apparently the victim of a hit and run driver. Mrs. Yule reported to authorities that she had seen what appeared to be a bundle lying in the road and realized when she was almost upon the object that it was a man. Clardy had already died from the effects of injuries sustained previously, the autopsy showed. Clardy is said to have gone to the beach south of Redondo with a party, but became tired and decided to leave before the others were ready. He was last seen about 1:30 a. m. before his lifeless body was found near Walteria two hours later.

Popular Officer Goes Back to Work

J. Fred Spöcher, Torrance police officer, who was seriously injured several months ago when he fell from the roof of a building at the revolver range and broke his neck, has recovered sufficiently to return to work. Spöcher will be on duty again starting next Monday. The many friends of the popular officer will be glad to know that he has regained his health.

Equalization Board Prepares List Of Products Exempt From Taxation

SACRAMENTO. (U.P.)—Specific lists of commodities which are exempted from the 3 percent retail sales tax have been prepared by the state board of equalization in an attempt to iron out difficulties and answer questions which have perplexed grocers.

Under new interpretive rules approved by the board, the following food products are not taxable when sold for human consumption:

Cereal and cereal products, milk and milk products, oligomargarine, meat and meat products, fish and fish products, eggs and egg products, vegetables and vegetable products, fruit and fruit products, spices and salt, coffee and coffee substitutes, tea, sugar and sugar products other than candy and confectionery, cocoa and cocoa products other than candy and confectionery, baby foods, bakery products, baking soda, coal, kerosene, coconut, crackers, flavoring extracts, flour, fruit juices in pure and undiluted state, gelatine, health foods, ice cream, jelly powders, malted milk, mustard, nuts, peanut butter, sauces, soups, syrup and yeast.

Food products do not include and the tax, accordingly, applies to receipts from retail sales of candies, including chocolate covered nuts, chewing gum, lozenges, cigars, cigars, tobacco, coloring extracts, dog, bird, cat and other animal foods, paper napkins, cups and dishes, root beer and root beer extracts, soaps, cleaners, polishers, waxes, mineral and carbonated water, ginger ale, beer, wine, spirituous liquors and other beverages.

Gross receipts from sales of meals by restaurants, hotels and boarding houses are taxable. The tax also applies to gross receipts from sales by soda fountains and drug stores of ice cream, sodas, milk, shakes, malted milk and other drinks for consumption on the premises where sold. Stores handling food products as well as taxable merchandise must keep separate records of their sales, in order that they may pay the tax on sales of all commodities except food for human consumption.

The tax will not apply to receipts from sales of food products to non-profit, private, religious or charitable schools.

Store Building Is Being Remodeled

William N. Nye secured a permit from the city engineer's office to erect a new dwelling, at 1423 Acacia. Other improvements in the building line in Torrance, now in progress, include the remodeling of the building formerly occupied by the Rappaport department store on Calverly avenue, which will be the new location of the Miller Furniture store. John A. Young, 1631 Gramercy, took out a permit for an addition to his home at that address, and the Elmore & Lambing Company of Long Beach secured a permit for the erection of a service station on the new state highway in Walteria.

GAY PAREE BOOKS vodvil headliners FOR FLOOR SHOW

An exceptional group of talented "big time" acts, all of whom have been headliners on the vaudeville stage, are now entertaining at the Gay Paree, 1218 Wilmington boulevard in Wilmington.

Heading the list are those famous tap dancers, Roy and Winnie Richardson, who have just finished a 14-weeks engagement in one of Catalina Island's elite night clubs. Roy and Winnie not only have rhythm but their fancy steps are so intricate that very few have even been imitated.

Others on the floor show bill at the Gay Paree are Niles Marsh, one of the best female impersonators who ever played in vaudeville; the Ballif Sisters, who made such a hit with the President of Mexico when he saw their act at the opening of the San Diego Exposition. Paul Stein, formerly of Paul Whiteman's Band, and a very clever tap dancer and musician himself, acts as master of ceremonies. Music for dancing is furnished by Dick Davis and his Night Owls. For the dinner man, the Gay Paree offers a full menu of deliciously cooked foods. Their steaks are particularly tempting.

Waidelich Is Toastmaster

Arthur G. Waidelich, principal of Torrance high school, presided as toastmaster at the annual banquet of the California State Employees' Association Monday night at Hollywood Masonic temple.

The convention was billed for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and 682 persons were on hand for the banquet, while some 800 more came in for the speeches.

Remember! Come to Torrance Saturday. It's the Big Bargain Day!
