I went to the animal fair, The birds and beasts were there. The big baboon by the light of the moon Was combing his golden hair.

And believe it or not, I saw some baboons. They had saddles on their backs. A little fellow with a bright uniform and a number on his sleeve was in the saddle.

You had to be philosophical about the beasts—mammoth draft horses, cows with large drafting units, etcetera—because all you saw as you walked through the stables was a beautiful rear view of swishing tails.

Surprised was I to witness the concern and interest with which a large crowd was watching of all the common things on earth—a man milking a cow. Kids especially seemed to be dumbfounded by the exhibition.

The midway and its side shows were the same as I recall seeing back in the late '90's (fairlight, 1912, if you insist) with ONE exception... the barkers, most colorful figures on the midway, have lost their charm by the use of the modern microphone.

But the old skin games are still making their cakes and coffee on the midway. I was taken in by a suave gent who, for the small sum of twenty-five cents, would attempt to guess my age.

Notwithstanding this new twist to a very old game, I was impressed by the obvious need for some new wrinkles in the way of side shows and amusements. Most of them were aged old. But all seemed to be getting a good play... the penny emporiums where you peered in a machine to see a buxom lass strutting about in long underwear...

Fire Rages Through Two States

The grim spectre of the West, a forest fire, swept over two sections of California and Oregon, leaving behind a trail of burned forests, razed towns and dead and homeless. Above is the cremation of a giant redwood near Santa Cruz, Cal.

Housing Project Named TOLEDO, O. (U.P.)—The new low cost housing project here will be known as the "Brand Whitlock Homes," in honor of the late World War minister to Belgium and four-time mayor of Toledo.

Horsepower Test SACRAMENTO, (U.P.)—Victors to the California State Fair this week are going to have a chance to see what horsepower really is. One of the events announced is a horse-pulling contest.

Park Libraries Opened BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (U.P.)—Park libraries is the latest development of Kern county's free public library system. A collection of 50 books is sent out daily to each of the city's parks.

I've always felt sorry for these poor fortune tellers, who, it would appear, should devote a little of their time to telling their own fortunes. And if I could stand the smells in their cramped little tents and the swish of their dirty skirts I would cough up a four-bit piece just to see if they really were fortune tellers.

But the act that stole the show was unannounced. For Mother Nature works on and on regardless of fairs or anything else.

Right smack dab before our eyes there was born to a big, old sow so many little pigs it was impossible to count them. The mother was attended by two keepers who seemed to do nothing but watch. After all, what was there to do? They did, however, snip off the infants' little sharp teeth as they appeared and then placed them over close to mama where they immediately and when not two minutes old, started having lunch with a vigor that was amazing. And all mama did was grunt, not loud, but quietly and with a sort of musical rhythm.

I suppose I should say, "Ain't Nature grand!" But I won't.

Every time that nature produces annual flowers in our gardens from self-sown seed, she demonstrates that annuals can be grown from seed sown in the fall.

The list of subjects which can self-seed may vary in different sections of the country, but it is probable that annual larkspur and cornflowers (centaurea cyanus) will be on the list almost anywhere.

These and other subjects may be grown from seed sown in the fall; and many authorities advise that larkspurs be so grown wherever possible. Plants from fall sowing get started much earlier in the spring; and they flower almost as soon as indoor plants, besides being much larger or more vigorous.

Hard Seeds' Best The list of subjects may safely include all annuals which usually self sow in your neighborhood, and any other varieties which are hardy, and have small hard seeds, with which you are willing to take a chance for the sake of earlier plants.

A seed bed surrounded by a wooden curb is an excellent place to sow fall annuals. A cold frame will do as well; and many sow seeds in the open garden, where experience has shown the drainage is good. If seeds are

Months' Mileage Even Pasadena, Calif. (U.P.)—Motorcycle Officer Lee Forrester is wondering whether it is a habit or whether it is his speedometer. Three months ago, he reported 1,387 miles; two months ago his report was 1,386 miles; last month the speedometer again read 1,386 miles.
