ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

A mock wedding, in which Otis Woolpert appeared as the reluctant bride, featured a gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Woolpert, on Lomita boulevard, Lomita, last Sunday, when Miss Edith Bunge, assistant postmaster, announced her approaching marriage to Trygve Thorson. The wedding will be the culmination of a school-day romance, dating back almost to primary days, and continuing through the graduation of the principals from Narbonne high school, Miss Bunge with the summer class of 1930, and Thorson with the winter class of 1931.

The party in Miss Bunge's honor was given in the evening, following an afternoon celebration of the birthday of Mr. Woolpert, rural carrier of the Lomita postoffice. Miss Bunge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bunge, her intended the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thorson. The families have been residents of Lomita for many years and the happy pair have many friends who have watched the progress of the affair with interest and are deeply pleased at its joyful culmination.

The announcement of the engagement was made on little cards attached to a beautiful wedding cake. The date of the wedding has not been stated.

Those present were Miss Bunge, Mr. Thorson, Mr. and Mrs. Otis W. Pedersen, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murray, Miss Birda Paddock, Miss Joyce Bunge, all of Lomita; Von Martin, of Los Angeles, and the host and hostess.
