State Chairman

Talks At Woman's Club On Child Welfare

Joy of the Christmas season was manifested at the luncheon in Torrance Woman's Club Wednesday where tables attractively arranged were decorated in Christmas berries, fruit of silver and gold, and tapers in harmonizing colors. Seventy-five club members and friends enjoyed the turkey dinner, prepared by Mrs. Frank Weiss and her committee. During the dinner the ladies were entertained by the Torrance high school Madrigal singers, directed by Mrs. Margery Elsenher. Their singing of a capella choir numbers and closing with "Silent Night," left all with that feeling of well being. Thos. Elson, principal of the high school, discussed the constitution.

At the afternoon meeting Dr. Maude Wilde, state chairman of child welfare, was the principal speaker and took as her subject, "Welfare of Our Children." Dr. Wilde stated that children need three things—first a place to work from, this should of course be his home. He should next have a place to work with his elders, the Woman's Club might well serve here. Next he should be provided with an emotional outlet. She advised club women to look to themselves before criticizing the youth. The younger generation must be impressed with the fact that the need of individuals is not so much worldly goods as spiritual. Mr. and Mrs. Condey of Paramount School of Dancing gave an interpretation of Indian dances.

N. B. P. W. HEAR
TALG ON ILLINOIS
The annual Christmas party of the National Business and Professional Women will be held in their clubhouse, 1324 El Prado, Monday, December 16. Those planning to attend are asked to make their reservations with Margaret Clark, chairman for the party, at an early date, phone 327. Each member is asked to bring a gift wrapped in plain paper costing 50 cents and if any member has a guest she must provide an extra gift.

At the regular business meeting held in the clubhouse Monday evening, Miss Lute Fraser talked on the state of Illinois. She gave an interesting report on the Illinois Indians. Illinois, she stated, was the home of some of the most warlike tribes. It saw its share of Indian wars. The massacre at Fort Dearborn, now the city of Chicago, is one of the bloody moments of the early day frontier. Intermittent clashes between the redskins and white colonists continued until the final chapter was written with the expulsion of Blackhawk, one of the bravest and most respected warriors. In 1930 it is interesting to note that 429 Indians were still listed in the population of Illinois. Belated tributes to the tenacity and courage of the Indian warriors is paid in the present nick-nam of the students of the state university, who now proudly call themselves "Illini" (We are men).
