

Tennis Team to Play Hermosa on October 24

Expect to Gain in Standings From Now On

Having won 57 out of 140 individual matches played with the strongest teams in the league, the Torrance Tennis club expects to climb up in league rating henceforth because the members will be meeting more players of their own caliber. Last Sunday the Torrance club lost a series of matches with Bell players, 17 to 11. The next games will be with Hermosa Beach racket stars on Sunday, Oct. 24.

Altho she lost her match with one of the strongest girl players in the league last Sunday, Athos Fossum, 15-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Fossum of this city, put up a game fight and extended her match to make it the feature of the Bell-Torrance engagement. The scores were 4-1, 6-4 and 7-5. She has shown remarkable aptitude for the game and is said to be an extraordinarily good player for her age.

Singles winners for Torrance were Melvin Remer, Miss Louise Shamahan, Parke Montague, Baker Smith, Hugh Steadman and John Hooper. Doubles winners were Miss Shamahan and Bob Sleeth, Maxine Smith and Al Jaumson in the mixed sets; Remer and Woodcock, William Shawyer and Johnny Lang, the latter pair winning by default. Half of the matches were played here, the others at Bell courts.

Tartar Hold Poly to 6-0 in Practice

Just as Becker booted the ball out from the five-yard line, Rossett and Grubb rushed thru to block the kick, gaining first down for Torrance on that marker, the gun popped for the end of the fracas.

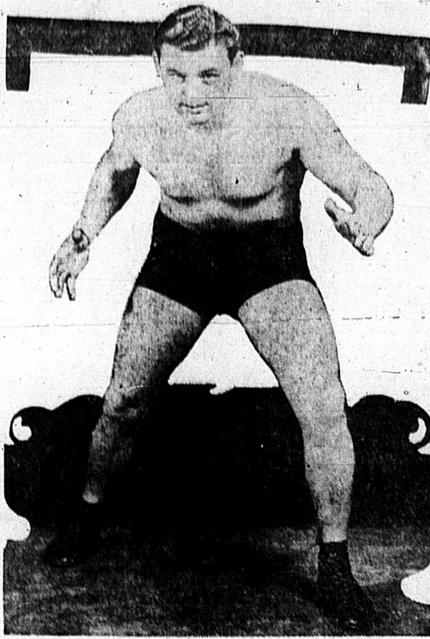

Coach Cochran's passing attack is a perfectly starved play, allowing the passer ample time to get a man in the clear and then hit him with the ball. The defense for the passer is a bit of strategy that is new and altho the formation for the pass is well-advertised to the opposing team, the opponents cannot get to the passer. It is as pretty a play as can be seen in any league.

Tartars in Good Shape
The Tartar's slow and deliberate shift is another new idea here. It gives the players a measured cadence that sweeps into power with a suddenness that leaves opponents flat-footed. All in all, Torrance should have taken Poly even tho the Los Angeles school outnumbered the Tartars in reserves and general team strength.

Poly's outstanding player was ebony Charles Burris, end. He played head's up ball all the time. Harvey Becker, star full-back, is probably their main-spring. Bill Ostrander, right half, was the only man injured (broken nose) in the game.

Cochran's team appears in good physical shape. They suffered no injuries and showed plenty of strength up to the final gun. In addition to Coast and Madore's outstanding performance, Al Winkler, 200-pound tackle, and Leo Rossett, watch-charm All-League guard last year, and Ray Richart,

Tartar Babes Open Against Gauchos Oct. 21

Coach Bert Merrill's Class B football team at Torrance high school will hold its last practice game before the start of the Marine league schedule next Monday afternoon at Banning high school. Last Thursday the Tartar Babes battled Jordan's Babes to a scoreless tie. The young Tartars showed a fair passing attack but revealed they needed a lot of drilling on running plays if they want to stay in the running for Marine B honors.

Next Thursday afternoon they will open their league season here against Narbonne's Babes. The game will start at 3 o'clock and Merrill plans to use this opening line-up: Bob Tolson and Eddie Dawson, ends; Joe Miles and Bill Snyder, tackles; Fred Baker and Carl Hamil, guards; Army Dowell, center; Bill Tagawa and J. B. Wallace, half-backs; Algie Shimatsu, full, and Bill Steward, quarterback and acting captain.

For reserves the Tartar Babes have James Jackson, Akira Shimatsu, Bill Darling, Bill Kelley, Gonzales, Paul Smith, John Schwartz, Lester Cline, Jimmy Dowell, J. C. Franklin, Dick Beecher and Bert Bender. Last year's Babes tied one game with El Segundo and were beaten by one touchdown by Narbonne and Gardena.

SPORT SHOTS

(Continued from Page 7-B) boys have more than an outside chance to win. St. Mary's three touchdowns last year were all scored in the second quarter. Loyola came back in the last half to outplay the visitors.

Experts give St. Mary's a slight edge because of Madigan's strong reserve strength, although the teams may take the field on a nearly even basis. Lieb has two backfield combinations. The experienced Loyola senior quartet lines up with Jim Rinaldi calling signals, Harry Acquavelli at the running left half, Frank Lukowsky, right half, and Hank Sartoris at full.

Charles Borden, 1008 Sierra Place, was awarded a new virgin wool blanket last Saturday by the Star Department Store.

This Saturday at 8 p. m., the Star will give away a set of double deck bunk beds for boys. The beds are of the popular Monterey type.

School Spirit Soars
Jack Kent and Johnny Schmidt need polishing on snaggling passes, and when they learn to hold on to the oval, these two fastest men on the team should account for a major portion of the Tartar's scores in the coming campaign.

The spirit of the school, as shown by the record attendance of the student body and the students' leather-hinged enthusiasm is well above par and decidedly higher than in previous years. This looks well for the Tartars in the Marine league campaign. The opening line-up was:

Torrance (0) vs. L. A. Poly (6)
Kent R. L. E. E. E.
Winkler R. T. L. Maderais
Rossett R. T. L. Tolmer
Richart C. Avevey
Grubb L. R. H. Gillies
Harris L. T. P. Rossa
Radford L. N. Parker
Schmidt F. Hill
Herlett R. H. Eddy
Coast L. M. R. Ostrander
Madore Q. Willoughby

Two Grass-Fire Calls Answered

Fire apparatus from the central station made an 8.1 mile run last Friday afternoon to North Torrance when a grass fire was reported at Illinois street near Market street. When the department arrived—in less than seven minutes—the fire was under control by residents in the vicinity.

Sunday night about 11 o'clock a call was received at the central station reporting another grass fire at East Road and Western avenue. Engineer Gordon Northington boarded a police car with pump cans and dashed there to extinguish the blaze.

Legion Selling Game Ducats

Torrance American Legionnaires are selling ducats these days for the annual Legion-sponsored Armistice Day football game between Loyola University and Centenary College at Shreveport, La., in the Los Angeles Coliseum. There will be no Nov. 11 observance here so the members of Bert S. Crossland post are concentrating on sending a large delegation of Torrance grid fans to this game.

The enviable record of the Gentlemen as Centenary is known in the south against Southwest conference opponents places them high in national football rating. They have defeated Southern Methodist two out of three times, won from Texas A. & M., five out of six contests and are pointing for combat with Coach Tom Lieb's Loyola Lions.

Commander Grant Barkdull has received an allotment of tickets for the Nov. 11 game which provide splendid seats near the 40-yard line. Popular prices are charged and all of the profits will go to the Legion.

Small-Bore Rifle Team for Boys Forming Here

Formations of a small-bore rifle team was started here this week by Bert S. Crossland American Legion post among the older boys enrolled in the Sons of Legion. Any boy from 12 to 18 years of age whose father is a member of the Legion is eligible to join the team and receive capable instruction from William H. Stanger.

The post plans to build a range for the team in the near future, Stanger said. Proper use of firearms and marksmanship with 22 calibre rifles will be stressed. Stanger is greatly interested in the junior sharpshooters venture and he is well qualified to serve as leader, having been one of the founders of the Torrance Pistol club and an expert with all kinds of firearms.

Boys interested in joining the team should see him, Ray Begue, who is in charge of the Sons of Legion, or Commander Grant Barkdull of the local post. The Torrance Academy team won high team series (2752) and high team game (1000) last week. Tommy Tomich (Alaska Inn) was high individual player for series with a 628 and his high individual game of 242 was topped.

HOT SHOTS OF BOWLING FAME WILL APPEAR HERE

A Hot-Shot league, composed of bowlers holding the highest averages in Southern California, opened play this week and will be seen in action at the Torrance Bowling academy every Tuesday night, according to Owner Ed Gaspar. The Hot-Shots are a traveling league, appearing in four different alleys weekly. Two teams, one sponsored by Film Comedian Harold Lloyd and the other by Gaspar, will represent the local alley in the six-team circuit.
