

10 INNING MOUND DUEL ENDS 0 TO 0

A 10-inning pitching duel between Bill Sanchez, 19-year-old Torrance-Lomita Indian twirler, and Bill Johnson, Los Angeles Angel recruit, that resulted in a scoreless tie gave fans attending the double-header Sunday at the city park diamond something to talk about for months to come. The Indians were playing the San Pedro Jadrans.

Walt Morris' club got four hits off Johnson, who played with the Angels' Bellingham, Wash., farm club earlier in the season, while young Sanchez held the Jadrans to three bingles. Air-tight fielding by both teams cut off what few scoring chances were possible behind the expert hurling.

In the opener, Vodie Clements pitched the Torrance-Lomita team to a 10 to 2 victory over the Southern Pacific Railway nine.

The Indians will play a double-header with the Bank of America nine next Sunday, the first game starting at 1:15, followed by a seven-inning nightcap. Sanchez, Clements and a new youngster from the U.S.S. Oklahoma, Bill McCoy, will be available as pitchers and Mapes and Conroy will catch.

Sullivan, T-I. Indian shortstop, poked two of the four hits obtained from Bill Johnson in the feature game last Sunday. Gar Johnson, third baseman, and Swain Johnson, second baseman, tallied the other bingles. The Jadrans hitters were Pitcher Johnson, Johnny Van Tress, center fielder, and Chuck White, first baseman.

Assisting Sanchez, who is the son of Pete Sanchez, manager of the Shell Refinery club which won the California Semi-Pro Baseball tourney here this summer, was Clifford Mapes, North Long Beach catcher who recently signed with the Indians. Horace Evans, San Pedro Longshoreman backstop who made the State Semi-Pro All-Star team and went to Yakima for a try-out after the tourney, caught for the Jadrans.

T.H.S. Athletes Join Protective Fund Plan

With all but two students paying the required fees (and they met their obligation later), the recently-instituted Athletic Protective Fund insurance plan was adopted by Torrance high school athletes Monday. More than the required 90 percent of boys out for football and other sports signed up to benefit from the fund in case they are injured in competitive play, according to Principal Thomas Elson.

All members of the Tartar varsity football team and the Bee squads are enrolled in the fund, which will disburse on a pro rata basis to anyone hurt in play. The fees are $1.25 a year for coverage in all sports, $1 for football alone.

HUNTERS BAG DEER
Walt Morris, chief of the Torrance-Lomita Indians, and Joe Conroy went hunting last Thursday north of Mojave. Morris reports they bagged a three-point, 147-pound deer.

RE-NAMED DIRECTOR
Mayor William H. Tolson was re-named this city's director for the Los Angeles County League of Municipalities for the ensuing year by the city council Tuesday night.

By BOB LEWELLEN

Sunshine streamed thru Loyola University's athletic clouds this week and one Mike Pecarovich could be heard whistling an old Irish jig in back of the training quarters where he was polishing a rabbit's foot.

Headman Pecarovich's double-duty workouts over the husky shoulders of a kid named O'Doul—a first moniker Ray, and a bit of a nephew of the famed base-baller—paid huge dividends last week when the Lions turned on Amos Alonzo Stagg's Golden Tigers, and bit a rug-sized piece out of the golden flank.

Bobby Trezise, quarterback, former Torrance high star, played one of the best games of his life last week against College of Pacific. Bobby's blocking was about the best seen in local parts so far this year—and his signal calling was almost perfect. The local lad will see plenty of action Sunday against the Gaels along with John McFadden, end, another Torrance athlete.

Ray O'Doul's "big berth" pass; his better than middlin' punting and, of all things, his smashing runs through the line pegs him as the guy to watch next Sunday, Oct. 15, in the Los Angeles Coliseum when Loyola plays host to its friendly enemies, St. Mary's galloping Gaels, fresh from pulling a little more fur out of the now California "Bare."

That O'Doul was a handsome present to Pecarovich in honor of his return to the Loyola campus after years of coaching at Gonzaga was not the case. As a matter of fact, the big fellow is one of the very few "made" footballers. Critics agree that good football players are born, not made. Well sir, O'Doul is a good footballer.

For several weeks he was classified as "that gang," but from out of the corner of his eye Pecarovich became conscious of the bulk and the athletic name of O'Doul.

Then started as terrific a course of training as ever put a footballer in the starting lineup. Night after night, the Lion men tor held O'Doul in heavy scrimmage for two hours at a time without rest. Linemen and backs came and went to the rest bench, but O'Doul heaved passes, ran tackles, whammed into frosh lines, and quick kicked until the very shirt on his back became ribbons and his face well plowed up from grabbing finger nails and flying cleats.

Out of the fire came Ray O'Doul, left halfback who may spell the difference between victory and defeat against the hard charging Moragans.

Counting noses last night in the first workout after the College of Pacific game, Pecarovich discovered all present—even the broken one of Bernie Flaherty. The latter will be in shape for the Gaels as will Steve Kolton who has been laid up with a badly sprained ankle.

There is optimism on "The Hill" these nights. Even the critics have hidden their grouches for the present. When a football coach can start molding touchdown makers out of just "Begg Strang fellows" there is considerable hope that Loyola's Lion has developed teeth instead of the "gummer" it has been accused of being.

Jordan Shows Up Tartar Weaknesses

The score was 21 to 0. The weather was rainy. Jordan's fullback Hubert Duke was the showman of the game and the Tartars looked terrible.

That is a fair description of the first practice game, held last Friday afternoon, of Coach Robert Barr's 1939 defenders of the Marine league football championship. However, it can be qualified to this extent:

Jordan presented some team-play that looked like the invaders were already in mid-season form. The drizzle that soaked the field made handling of the ball a matter of expert juggling. Kenneth Perkin, Tartar signal-barker and kicker, revealed that he is going to be a major threat to the local's opponents this season.

Have Husky Line
But the blocking and tackling was something out of the sandlot so far as Messrs. Tartars were concerned. Even Coach Barr admitted that his prospects looked pretty bad in this department of the game. The line is husky enough—that fellow Ernst and young Grubb would come close to the 500-pound mark if they trod the scales together—but the boys appeared to be seeking the higher altitudes in their blocking and charging. Consequently they were pushed all over the gridiron by Jordan's mostly dusky warriors.

Hubert Duke ran wild. He kicked a field goal from the Tartars' 20-yard line in the first quarter and later snaked thru the Torrance line and secondary for 62 yards to a touchdown right after the second half opened. Alfred Daniels, Jordan left guard went 16 yards for the second touchdown after recovering a Torrance fumble in the third quarter and as the game was ending, James Thompson, quarterback, brought Jordan's score up to 21.

Fatigue Tests Barred

NORMAN, Okla. (U.P.)—University of Oklahoma officials have halted the fatigue experiments of Charles Thompson, graduate student. Thompson planned to find out what makes a person become tired by using himself as a guinea pig.

Weather Tricks Firemen

MARICOPA (U.P.)—Disgusted by chasing down one false alarm after another on rainy nights, local firemen are overhauling Maricopa's fire alarm system. It was found that when the wires were dampened by rain, the system short-circuited repeatedly.

Bee Gridders Play Thursday Afternoons

A somewhat glorified version of sandlot football is being displayed every Thursday afternoon at the high school field when Coach Pete Zamperini's class Bee warriors proceed to take each other to pieces—all in the name of the Jacksons vs. the Yanceys.

Deprived of meeting times from other schools, the junior gridders nevertheless show commendable spirit in tackling each other. The teams are named after their student coaches, Harold Jackson and Bob Yancey. The games are started about 3:30 every Thursday afternoon.

Gauchos Meet Dorsey Friday

Narbonne winds up its practice game series tomorrow afternoon by taking on Dorsey high at the Lomita field. The game will start at 3 o'clock. The Gaucho Bees are playing a practice game at Dorsey's field this afternoon. Last week the lightweights defeated El Segundo 25 to 0 at the Ollers' field.

His Honor Obliges
MERCED (U.P.)—Hard at work on city affairs one night, the Merced city council was interrupted by three girls of high school age who tiptoed into the room and stood giggling beside the table. The bravest of the three whispered to Mayor R. A. Jones that they wanted his signature as part of a scavenger hunt.

"Upside Down" Boy Normal
ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—Physicians here have become interested in Eugent Sanders, eight-year-old schoolboy whose heart, stomach, liver and appendix are in almost opposite positions of those of normal persons.
