Housewives Urged to Rout Out Every Scrap of Rubber
Mrs. America, roll up your sleeves and rally to the home front's current battle cry—the rubber salvage campaign!

Patriotic housecleaning means routing out every ounce of rubber scrap from the cellar to the attic of your home.

No bit of rubber is too small, too worn or too old for you to take to your neighborhood filling station for the rubber salvage collection. You will receive a penny per pound of reclaimable rubber.

Look around your kitchen for old rubber gloves, aprons, sink stoppers, preserve jar rings. Any old shower caps, soap dishes, drain plugs, rubber sponges, hot water bottles or ice bags today?

Even the tiny rubber bulbs from droppers in the medicine chest are worth reclaiming. And rubber hair curlers, girdles and combs are on the list. Even the nursery can contribute baby pants, nipples, teething rings and toys.

Mock Wedding Features Spehgers' Silver Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Spehger celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday with a party at their home, 1307 Portola ave.

Features of the evening were a mock wedding and the presentation of a handsome group gift and many personal gifts as well as flowers, telegrams and messages from out-of-town friends. Participating in the "wedding" rites were Helene Miller as bride, Arch Lewis, bridegroom; Mrs. Persia K. Fess in ministerial garb, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Spehger were married in 1917 at Anaheim and several of their wedding guests were present at the anniversary celebration.

Seven tables of pinochle were in play and refreshments were served. The following day a dinner party was given for relatives from Anaheim, Fullerton and Torrance.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD FESTIVE TEA PARTY
St. Andrew's Guild hall was the setting for a beautifully appointed tea last Thursday afternoon at the final Girl Scout meeting of the season. Guests were the girls' mothers and committee members. Rosemary DeCamp Shider, as guest speaker, was presented by Rev. Paul Moore, Wheeler, pastor. Her recent picture, "Lunge Book" was highlighted to the delight of her young audience, who plan to attend the local showing in a body.

First aid badges were presented to: Rosie Rossi, Jane Scotland, Polly Robinson, Arlene Atwood, Marjorie Dunham, JoAnn Sandstrom, Teala Bellini, Beverly Hopkins, Ann Gallimore, Joyce Steele, Mary Olive Jones, Bonnie Edison, Bengta Nelson, Nancy Ann Whyte, Doris Lee and Marlene Quaggin and Barbara Hammack.

Girl Scout pins were presented to Betty Day, Jacqueline Ward and Bengta Nelson who were that day received into the troop.

MORE THAN 80 AT REVIEW-TEA
All white flowers and taper lights were used to decorate the tea table last Wednesday when the Torrance Woman's Club Literature Section entertained following a fine book review by Patricia Valley, daughter of Lorita Baker Valley. More than 80 Long Beach, Los Angeles, Wilmington and Torrance guests were present.

Assisting Mrs. J. A. Eisenbrandt, chairman, were Mmes. Helen Hillego and LeRoy Snodgrass, while Mrs. C. B. Mitchell, club president and Mrs. W. I. Laughon, poured. Those serving the refreshment committee were Mmes. C. E. Ruppel, S. V. Rauss, F. A. Covington and Glenn Jain.
