FREE MEDICAL PRESCRIPTION SERVICE. Veterans with service connected disabilities may now have medical prescriptions filled by their own local druggist free of charge.

A contract has been negotiated with the California Pharmaceutical Association, of which more than half of the state's druggists are members, which will allow the immediate supplying of drugs and medical requisites anywhere in the state. The VA pays the bill.

Earlier this year a similar contract had been signed with the California Physicians Service which provided hometown medical treatment for veterans at VA expense.

Prescriptions of any physician authorized to treat a veteran will be honored. The arrangement is intended to augment existing services. Billing of prescriptions through the VA outpatients department will continue.

NEW VA "OFFICE ON WHEELS" TO SERVE SMALLER COMMUNITIES.

A group of VA experts with information about all federal veterans benefits, loaded down with all necessary blanks and VA forms will "take to the road" within the next two weeks.

General Bradley said, "Decentralize! Take VA services to the veteran in his home town." Consequently, the Los Angeles regional office is sending out an "office on wheels" to bring complete VA services to veterans in smaller Southern California and Arizona communities.

This mobile unit VA service will be as complete as the larger city offices. It will be equipped to handle pension claims for veterans and families of veterans, insurance reinstatement and changes, outpatients on-the-job training under the medical attention, school and Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill), and such other matters as come under federal law.

An advance unit will precede the larger "office on wheels" to make arrangements for location, publicity and accommodations. Veterans are urged to watch their hometown papers for exact information.

CEILINGS TAKEN OFF CAMPFIRE GIRLS' UNIFORMS

Official Camp Fire Girl uniforms and accessories, except footwear, have been removed from price control, the OPA said today.

Included in the decontrol action, which is effective immediately, are, in addition to the official uniforms, caps, hats, berets, anklets, collars, ties, handkerchiefs and suits. Like Girl and Boy Scout uniforms previously decontrolled, these are made exclusively for, and under the supervision of, a non-profit organization which controls their distribution through authorized dealers, for sale to members of the organization only.

CAMERAMEN SOUGHT

Ex-GI motion picture cameramen and camera repairmen are needed in the peacetime army, according to S/Sgt. E. M. Bryant of the Recruiting Service located in Torrance post office.
