

Job's Daughters In Whirl of Interesting Activities

Honored Queen Joann Sandstrom has had Bethel 50, International Order of Job's Daughters, in a whirl of social and business activities since her installation in December.

Assisted by a group of Bethel daughters she decorated a tree and distributed gifts to children patients at Harbor General Hospital. Recently she was hostess to a group who attended a radio broadcast in Hollywood.

A two-day rummage sale was successfully carried out. Editing of Job's Messenger was still another activity successfully completed.

Five project parties have been given and a traveling "bread basket" brought in money and created a lot of fun.

Many new members are to be initiated as a result of the current membership drive.

A recent pot luck supper, served in the temple was an enjoyable affair for a large group. Still another enjoyable affair was a progressive dinner Tuesday evening of last week. Delicious courses were served at the homes of Ann Stevens, Donna Wolf, Joann Sandstrom and Dora Ritko. The evening was concluded with a television play at the home of Miss Ritko.

Bethel daughters and council members are looking forward to other happy affairs that Miss Sandstrom has planned for the ensuing months of her term as queen of the Bethel.

Doing things by halves is worthless, because it may be the other half that counts.
