HOME BUILDERS . . . Elmer Elsworth, Linda Thane, and Joel Hall show off their prize winning bird houses to Mrs. Charles B. Dunham, who started her own sub-division to provide homes for the 12 varieties of birds who live in near-by vines.

large Wistaria vine where ten different types of wild birds live throughout the year.

The 54-year old woman has made birds her hobby for nearly all of the 18 years that she and her husband have resided here. This interest, at which she spends the greater part of her free time, has oft been the source of feature stories about her in many Southland publications. "A few years back," she recalls, "they did a story about me on the radio."

Mrs. Dunham said that she sponsored a contest before the war in which only nine contestants entered.

Winners of the contest, who were presented prizes by Mrs. Dunham Saturday afternoon before a gathering of nearly 75 interested persons, include:

The boys' division grand prize of $5.00 went to Joel Hall, 15, of 2116 South Halldale avenue; first prize of wrist watch went to Elmer Elsworth, 11, of 1617 West 216 street; second prize of a baseball and bat went to Jack Hanson, 12, of 1314 219 street; the same award went to third prize winner Tracy Dale, 11, of 1437 West 215 street; fourth prize of $3.00 went to Robert McMaugh, 8, of 1505 Plaza del Amo; and the fifth and sixth prizes of a pair of roller skates went to Billy Gitter, 9, of 1516 West 216 street and Westly Hanson, 9, of 1314 West 219 street.

In the girls' division grand prize of a watch went to Linda Thayne, 9, of 207 West 223 street; first prize of a story book doll went to Joyce Showalter, 9, of 1425 West 218 street; and the same prize as a second place award went to Jeanette Wright, 9, of 1662 West 215 street and the third prize of a doll was awarded to Judy Wolf, 9, of 21804 Halldale avenue.

In the six-year old division the first prize of a game went to Bob Wolf, 9, of 21804 Halldale avenue, while a game was also presented to David Nair of 1626 West 215 street.

Mrs. Dunham also awarded prizes for honorable mention to Clifton Wood, 9, of 1822 West 225 street; Bob Edens, 8, of 1546 West 219 street; Dennis Edwards, 10, of 21818 South Harvard street; Donnie Bourne, 8, of 1646 West 220 street and Herbie Erno, 8, of 1511 West 221 street.

Housing Is Really Up In the Air for These
This is a story about housing that's strictly for the birds. Mrs. Charles B. Dunham this week became the owner of 18 new buildings which include churches, cafes, schools, apartments, a service station and last but not least a cottage with awnings—all ranging from early American to modernistic in style.
These dwellings may be seen in the patio of her 21617 South Halldale avenue home for all 18 of them are bird houses.
Mrs. Dunham acquired these bird houses as a result of a contest she sponsored for neighborhood children and students at Halldale avenue elementary school to build bird houses. She needed the houses for her "bird village" as she terms the

25,000-Seat Stadium in Jaysee Plans

A 25,000-seat stadium will eventually accommodate spectators at the Harbor Junior College's sports events, according to Roy J. Becker, Board of Education member.
Classes at the new scholastic plant now under construction at Wilmington are due to start next September.
Becker said that the Harbor J.C. stadium will probably be the first of seven to be built throughout L.A. city school system. No starting date has been set as yet.

Moore Wins in Council Race; Mayor Run-off

George Moore was re-elected Tuesday to represent Harbor City on the City Council and two incumbent Board of Education members, who also represent Lomita, triumphed over their rivals.
In the L.A. city-wide mayoralty election, Mayor Fletcher Bowron topped his opposition, but a run-off between himself and second-place Lloyd Aldrich was assured.
A run-off loomed for Board of Education office No. 2 although Earle D. Baker was far in front of the other 14 candidates.

A formal coronation of the local feminine monarchy will follow the democratic "election" of the Queen by popular vote. Votes—10 at a time—may be purchased from any candidate or her promoters for 10 cents.
Money raised during the contest will be used by the Jr. Woman's Club to bolster the building fund of the YWCA.
Many of the prizes being offered to the contestants are now being displayed in merchants windows throughout the city.
With 2980 out of 3600 city precincts in, Roy J. Becker had clinched Board office number 6 and J. Paul Elliott had captured number 4.
