MILE OF ROSES
... Drive, a main Corona boulevard, is banked for a mile on one side by a yellow, pink, and white wall of roses in full bloom; Cherokee roses climb thirty feet or more to garland the trunks of palm trees. Below bloom the ehruhs of pastel-colored Lady Banksia roses.

In these days of rocket propulsion, people consider not only a trip across the nation to Southern California, but perhaps a trip to the Moon. Famed Griffith Park Observatory and Planetarium, perched on a mountain shoulder overlooking Hollywood, schedules month-long show, illustrating conditions expected on the planets.

Annual celebration observes the blooming of Sierra Madre's famous wistaria vine that spreads over more than 40,000 square feet of steel supported arbor. Vine was transplanted from a gallon tin can in 1893. The giant lavender umbrella is surrounded by terraced grounds and floodlighted at night.

Plant life, animal life and geological wonders of the colorful desert and mountain canyons surrounding the Palm Springs oasis resort are viewed in Sunfun Hikes every Saturday until June 1. Naturalists on the staff of the Village's Desert Museum, and visiting authorities, present explanatory talks of the features inspected on the leisurely hikes.

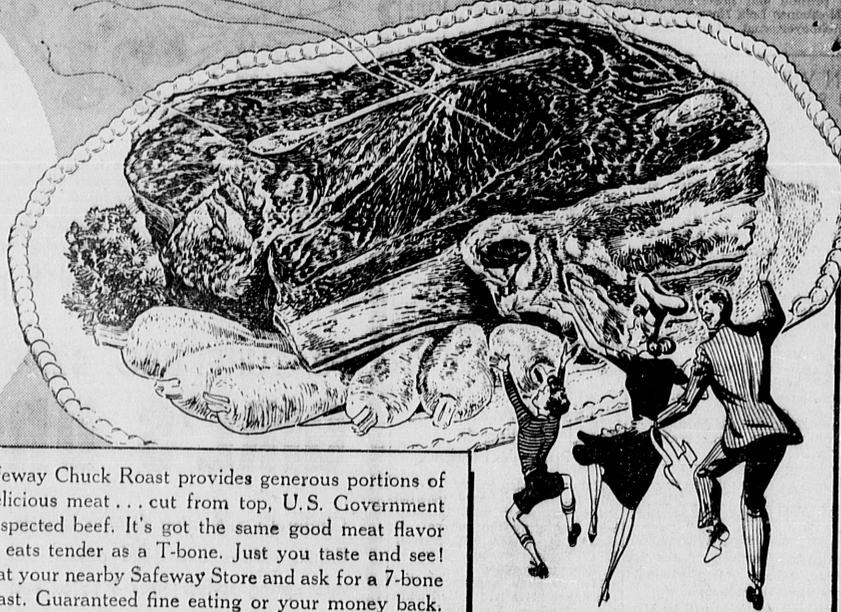

Members of Torrance-Lomita Realty Board will meet at 8:00 p.m. Monday, April 12, in Torrance Chamber of Commerce director's room. Topic for discussion will be the proposed installation of a multiple listing service for this area.
