

BIRD OF A STORY . . . Conventional pets, such as dogs, cats, and frogs, are out as far as Walter Blocker, 9, of New Orleans, is concerned. He has taken up with a young mockingbird that he found after it had fallen from its nest. The bird flies off for hours each day, but always returns in the evening to its benefactor.

Conner Will Attend Postal Meet at Fair

Postmaster C. Earl Conner of Torrance will be among the 125 members of Los Angeles County Postmasters' Association to attend the September meeting of the organization to be held in conjunction with Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona Friday, Sept. 24.

During the morning hours the postmasters will view the exhibits in the 20 major divisions of the fair. At noon they will gather for luncheon in the main cafeteria. Most of the members, many of whom will be accompanied by their families, will remain over for the horse show in the evening.

The day has been designated as Postmasters' Day and it is expected that many will be present from surrounding counties. In attending the fair this year the postmasters are following a precedent established several years ago.
