Organizations of an advisory committee in the Shoestring area, last of the six such groups to be formed, was completed this past week. Harold Umder was named acting chairman of the group with Mrs. Don Wolfe as secretary.

Advisory committees select projects in their immediate area upon which the councilman can concentrate and serve as his representatives in local governmental affairs. Other groups were named in San Pedro, Wilmington, Harbor City, South Los Angeles and Watts. The councilman holds regular monthly meetings with the advisory groups and reports progress on projects to them.

John Lovell Opens Nursery

John J. Lovell, who has lived in Torrance for more than 30 years, has finally entered the profession that has been his hobby for most of his life. Lovell this week announced the opening of his Marianna Nursery at 1510 West Carson street. A former painting contractor, Lovell has spent years working with shrubs and plants in and around his own home, and has started gathering a complete selection of plants for his nursery stock. He is receiving deliveries daily. "I'll be here to help anyone with his landscaping problems," Lovell said. Lovell, who lives at 1541 West 215th street, plans to operate the nursery by himself, he said.
