

Auto-PE Crash Wrecks Car But Tiny Tots Safe

Mrs. Dolores A. Sorenson drove onto the railroad tracks at 220th St. and Border Ave. Monday afternoon, heard the Pacific Electric train toot, applied the brakes, but crash—it was too late.

As a result, her sedan, which was shoved across the street and wedged between a lamp-post and the train, was severely damaged.

Her two youngsters, Sharon, 4, and Kenneth, 3 months, however, miraculously escaped serious injury, although they were taken to a private physician for a check-up.

Motorman on the train, Samuel E. Matheny, 55, of Long Beach, said, according to police, that he was traveling about 15 miles per hour when he crashed into Mrs. Sorenson's auto. She apparently didn't see the train until it was too late.

Mrs. Sorenson lives at 23409 1/2 Catskill Ave., Wilmington.

Sgt. Evans Returned to Traffic Job

Police Sgt. Bill Evans has been returned to his former job as head of the department's traffic bureau, it was revealed this week by Chief of Police John Stroh.

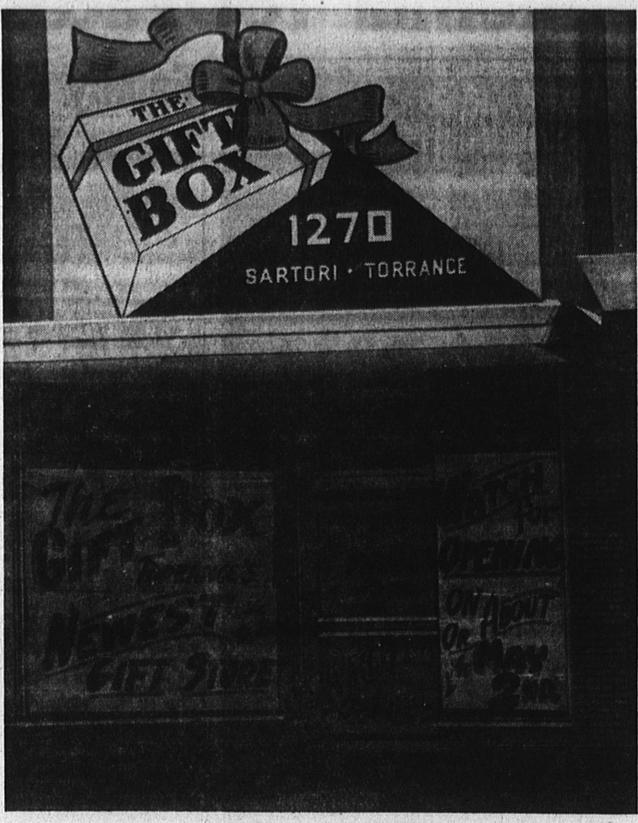

Sgt. Evans was transferred from traffic to head another detail when another member of the department was called into service several years ago.

With the return of this officer from the service, Sgt. Evans was again put in charge of the "black and white car" detail.

No drastic changes are to be made in the foreseeable future, Evans said.

IMPROVED APPEARANCE

You've reached middle age when your wife tells you to pull in your stomach — and you already have.

But it's a problem easily overcome. Just put your suit on, the good tailored one. It'll do more for your appearance than all the setting-up exercises ever invented.

If you don't have a good suit, then put your shorts on and stroll over to the address below. We'll outfit you from the skin out with a suit that'll make even your wife look twice. Treskes Men's Wear, 1319 El Prado, Torrance (between Newberry's and McCown Drug).
