Some 200 Scout leaders from this and other 15 districts of the Los Angeles Area Boy Scout Council are expected to enroll in the Council's first advanced training school, which opens Sept. 22 for a series of five Monday night sessions and one weekend camp. Evening sessions, starting at 7:30 p.m., will be held in the Goodyear Recreation room.

Announcing the course, R. T. Graham, district training chairman, warned that deadline for enrolling in the course is Sept. 15 because capacity is limited and the demand is great. He said that ATIS No. 1, designed to make the Scout's work simpler and more fun, is open to all local registered Scouters who hold the Scouter's basic training certificate and he especially urged Scoutmasters and Explorer Advisors to enroll.

"A boy becomes a Scout by doing the skills of the tenderfoot requirements," Graham explains. "and he grows and stays in Scouting when he has fun doing the skills of second class, first class, star, life, and Eagle with his Scout Patrol in the out-of-doors."

"ATIS No. 1 is based on the leader doing these skills and learning how to help his boys do them. The main idea of the course is to assist the Scouters in finding ways to do Scouting that are more fun and more effective in the Troop or Explorer unit. Scouting should be fun for men as well as boys, and we guarantee ATIS will offer some surprises along these lines."

Wysocski said there is a need in the community for a directory of business and industry and information gathered will be compiled and put into a suitable book.

The chamber has called on business men to cooperate fully with the canvassers who will present proper credentials. The project will take about five weeks, Wysocski said.

Carson CC Makes Survey

A business survey of the Carson community was launched late last week under the chairmanship of Mrs. Barbara Henry, appointed by Alex Wysocski, president of the Carson Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber has called on business men to cooperate fully with the canvassers who will present proper credentials. The project will take about five weeks, Wysocski said.

40th Division to Return To 'Old Stands' Tuesday

Southern California's 40th Infantry Division, already reorganized twice in the National Guard, will start on its third stretch next Tuesday.

The famous Southland outfit, called up for service in the Korean war on Sept. 1, 1950, will go back in business in the National Guard on that day and recruiting officers will open at many of its "old stands."

The 40th served in France in World War I, in Hawaii, Guadalcanal, the Philippines, and Korea in World War II, and fought in Korea, after training in California and Japan, during the present hostilities.

Maj. Gen. Daniel H. Hudson, outspoken commander who rocked the Pentagon on his return from Korea with the assertion that he believed the Chinese Reds could force UN troops from the embattled peninsula, is heading reorganization of the famed Sunburst division of the California National Guard.

Guard service, the general pointed out, calls for attendance at weekly, two-hour training periods, and two week summer encampments.

The 578th Engineer (Combat) Battalion, under Lt. Col. Dallas I. Downs, will convene Tuesday evening at the Manhattan Beach Armory, 552 36th St.
