PTA Names New Chairmen

Ratification of new chairmen highlighted the agenda last Thursday when Mrs. James McMillen, new president of 186th PTA, conducted her first board meeting at her home, 1608 W. 204th St.

Committee leaders named were Mesdames J. R. Enoch, from-ber-ship; B. B. Burrus, publicity; S. Noda, record book; F. C. Beach, hospitality; Mill Rose, co-hospitality; D. Meredith, ways and means; Herman Eisenbeis, room mother; J. T. Evans, co-room mother; W. S. Stewart, music; J. C. Parr, newsletter; P. DeWaher, child welfare.

C. L. Moore, co-child welfare; W. A. S. Douglas, legislation; Ronald Powell, Community Chest; R. J. Farmer, co-Community Chest; Raymond Stith, art; and Earl Beck, parent-education.

A social and refreshment hour followed the business session.

Past Leaders of 'Legion Ladies' Are Entertained

Past presidents of Bert S. Crossland Unit 170, American Legion Auxiliary, gathered at the 1638 Greenwood Ave. home of Mrs. Herbert Robinson last Friday evening for a dessert card party.

Capturing prizes for top scores at the canasta tables were Mrs. Vern Babcock and Miss Corlita Reeve. Mesdames Alma Smith and James R. Wilkes won prizes for proficiency in bridge.

A brief business session preceded card play.

Saturday Is Curtain Time For 'Cancioneros' Concert

Stage curtain at Redondo Union High auditorium will go up at 8:15 o'clock next Saturday night, June 27, on the third annual concert of Los Cancioneros, Hollywood Riviera singing group.

Choral classics, Negro spirituals, and traditional folk songs, directed by Mrs. Barbara Mabin, will take the spotlight during the first half of the evening's performance. The singers then will don raccoon coats, cloche hats, and flapper frocks to live over the roaring 20s in a one-act musical, "23 Skidoo," written by Ray Wallace.

Tickets for the event, at $1.20 each, may be obtained from any member of the group or by calling Frontier 2-2782.

MOONLIGHT AND ROSES . . . bring memories to this spoonful couple of the 1920's, "Beautiful Doll" Elsa Beckman and her swain, Bob Holmes, during rehearsal for the Los Cancioneros production of "23 Skidoo." The musical drama of the roaring 20's will be presented next Saturday, June 27, at the Redondo High School Auditorium.

186th PTA Has Busy June Holds Round Of Parties Installs New Unit Leaders

June has been a busy party month for members of 186th St. PTA, with festivities being held for the teachers, graduating class, school children, and board members.

Executive board members gave a "Thank You" party for the teachers in appreciation for their cooperation during the past year. Replicas of the light red school house, complete with teachers and pupils, highlighted table decor for the affair, held early in June under the chairmanship of Mrs. Samuel Dow.

Mrs. Herman Eisenbeis, hospitality chairman, arranged the refreshments for the 80 A-6 graduates. A huge decorated cake, ice cream, and punch were served to members of the class and their parents who came for the ceremonies. Several pupils entertained with musical selections and skits.

Mothers of the students, co-operating with the teachers, provided the cookies and decorations to go with the ice cream furnished by 186th St. PTA for the last-day-of-school party. Games and group dancing highlighted the afternoon entertainment.

For the final social event of the year, Miss Hilda Jellison, principal, entertained members of the executive board at her home in Manhattan Beach last Friday night.

Revelation of secret pals climaxed the evening's fun, which also included word games. Mrs. James McMillen captured a prize for unscrambling the most words pertaining to PTA, while Mrs. David Wood won a prize for naming the most words beginning with the letter "c."

Games were arranged by Mrs. Claud Hill, past president, and Mrs. Ronald Powell, program chairman.

With simplicity as the keynote of installation ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Samuel Dow, past president and current unit goals chairman for Tenth District PTA, Mrs. James McMillen took office as 1953-54 president of 186th St. PTA at its final session of the year.

Installed to assist her were Mesdames A. B. Pond, first vice-president; Floyd White, secretary; W. C. Attebery, treasurer; B. H. Cothran, auditor; David Wood, historian; Claud Hill, parliamentarian; and Miss Hilda Jellison, second vice-president.

Stressing that parents should have fun with their children, and giving hints on inexpensive places both children and adults could enjoy Mrs. Iah Brunson, B-5 teacher, gave a talk on "Leisure Time With Your Children."

A second talk of the session, "Habits of Health as Seen Through the Eyes of a School Clerk," was given by Mrs. Claude Severin.

Mrs. McMillen presented Mrs. Claud Hill with the past president's pin, and expressed the appreciation of the PTA for the outgoing leader's work during the past year.

The business session was concluded with a report by Mrs. Donald Meredith on a tour recently made by her at the Tenth District Health Center. Enthusiasm she expressed for the project led to planning a similar tour later this year.

Mesdames Walter Hoffman, Walter Coates, Meredith, and Fran Grillo served as hostesses at the social hour following the meeting.
