

HAWAII BOUND . . . Mayfair Routeman Harley Eye and Mrs. Bernice McMahon are looking forward to a seven-day expense-paid trip to Hawaii. Mrs. McMahon, of Manhattan Beach, won the trip in a Sunlist Orange Juice contest, and Eye was awarded the trip because he was her milkman.

Mayfair Driver, Customer Get Trips to Hawaii

Soft guitars . . . songs of the islands . . . swaying palms . . . shimmering hula maidens . . . All this and more awaits a Mayfair Creamery customer and her Mayfair milkman. Both turned up winners in recent contest by Sunlist Orange Juice.

A seven-day expense-paid trip to Honolulu, the grand prize, was won by Mrs. Bernice McMahon of Manhattan Beach. Because he was her Mayfair milkman, Harley Eye also receives a free trip to Hawaii, according to John Melville, general manager for Mayfair Creamery distributors of Sunlist Orange Juice in this area.

Mrs. McMahon in winning over thousands of entries in the "Why I Like Sunlist Homogenized Orange Juice" contest, was all smiles as she prepared for her stay at Niunala Hotel. Eye's comment was "I didn't think I'd get to Honolulu delivering Mayfair milk. It shows there's opportunity everywhere."

Both winners appeared on a television show Tuesday afternoon.

Noted Author To Speak To Manuscripters

Leonard Wibberly, staff writer and editor for the Los Angeles Times, will be guest speaker at the Southwest Manuscripters meeting on Aug. 21 at Clark Stadium in Hermosa Beach.

The author of numerous books and articles, Wibberly will speak on "Planning, Research, and Writing the Young Adult Novel."

Born in Dublin, Wibberly was educated in Ireland and England. He has worked at various times as foreign correspondent, safety engineer, personnel manager, and others. He now resides in Hermosa Beach with his wife and two children.

His book covering the recent coronation entitled, "The Coronation Story," is a familiar sight in bookshop windows. His specialty, however, is in writing novels for the young adult, the best known of these being "The King's Beard."

Names of the prize-winners for the confession story contest will be announced at the meeting next week. Manuscripts for the article contest will be received at that time.

Membership in the Manuscripters is open to anyone sincerely interested in writing, according to Mrs. Elsie Pestoff, secretary-treasurer of the group. Mrs. Pestoff lives in Waverly and may be phoned at FRontier 5-3464 for information.
