'Easy to Wear, Easy to Take Care of' Style Note

Casual cottons for sleeping, sunning, and shopping highlighted the style scene at a Beta Sigma Phi sorority-sponsored show Friday night last week.

Each of the costumes shown accented the "easy to wear, easy to take care of" look with no sacrifice of style.

Juniorettes Throw Hats in Election Ring

Each girl desiring an office in the new Juniorette Unit of Epsilon Sigma Alpha here literally threw her hat into the ring when the club met last week at the 18020 Faysmith Ave. home of Miss Carole Sue Jackson.

Each girl made a hat inscribed with the name of the office she wished, then threw it into a bowl. Election was held among those seeking the same position. Officers for the ensuing term are Sara Sue Ward, president; Jackie Allen, first vice-president; Carole Sue Jackson, corresponding and recording secretary; Delyna Smith, commissioner of finance; and Joyce Hutchinson, social chairman. Juniorettes plan a full schedule for the summer. Miss Jackson reported. First on the agenda this month will be a Polka Dot Paradise Party sponsored by the Senior Chapter. Date and details will be announced later, Miss Jackson said.

Eyecatchers were gay seersucker pajamas that could double for the hostess role with box-cut jackets and loose trousers. Trousers in the pedal pusher line, however, were slim-cut and knee-hugging reminiscent of pirate dungarees. Outfits were teamed with tuck-in or wear-out blouses to match pants cuffs.

Engaging color combinations were seen in a pink polished cotton picked up by a lavender ribbon belt and matching embroidery criss-crossing the bodice; a peacock blue "squaw" dress trimmed at the yoke and hemline with rainbow hues of rick rack; and an aqua on white print pique with diagonal inserts of white on aqua at the hemline.

Fof dressier occasions, the fashion mandate this season "pick up the sparkle in your eyes with sparkle on your dress" was well-illustrated in a pale yellow nylon frock like the glint of sunlight across the ocean, buttons down the bodice front to the waist; and a summer sky-blue capturing the shimmer of the sea in aquamarine trim around the scoop neckline, sprinkled with rhinestones.

Back neck-lines caught as much attention as front, especially in a yellow frock floored in black velvet and teamed with matching bolero collared and cuffed in white. The neckline, scooped in front and piped in white, descended into a deep V in back to show off that all important summer tan.

A black cotton, piped around the halter neckline in white, with white cording setting off each of the many gorges in the flared skirt, also was an eyecatcher. Horizontal cording took the spotlight in a pink cotton with negligible neckline, the lines spaced wider at wider as they began at the nipped-in waistline and flared round the skirt to just above the hemline.

Sorority members, Dodie Campbell, Joan Davis, Ann Kloss; Mesdames Robert Bowers, Vincent Geiger, Gene Shirling, and Harold Roberts modeled the fashions on a stage banked with fern and chrysanthemums while Marilyn Lord of Hollywood served as commentator. Miss Marjorie Chambers was mistress of ceremonies for the evening.

Shipment to Indians on Hi-liter Slate

Seaside Hi-liters were thanked in advance for donations to the Indians at Fort McDowell missions in Scottsdale, Ariz., last Tuesday when Mrs. H. J. Milson, secretary, read a letter from the superintendent of missions.

Members are busily collecting needed articles to ready them for shipment on the Fourth of July, she said.

Business session also included postponement of the potluck supper, originally scheduled for this month. A new date will be announced later, Mrs. Milson said. Program highlights of the evening were two tap dances, "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band," by Miss Bonnie Shaw, of Doris Wy, in Seaside Heights.

Mrs. Milson will begin a new club tradition when she opens her 5311 Bindewald Rd home for next meeting, calendared for June 15. Members previously representing the state's history from the early Russian settlement, the Spanish missions, gold rush days, up to the present time.

Specialty dance and song numbers, skits, and a chorus of fifth and sixth grade students composed the program. Proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a new beaded screen for the school auditorium. The school PTA held its final activity of the year last week.

TWO-IN-ONE ... Mrs. Jack (Jimmie) Morrison shows off a two-in-one ensemble, a sheer green and white checked cotton topped over a solid green, square-necked modified sheath. Modeling a trim blue-flecked suit featuring button interest at the hipline is Mrs. Harold (Maryellen) Roberts (Herald Photo)

ALL DRESSED UP ... are Dodie Campbell, left, in an empire-waisted grey frock featuring tiny tufts at the bodice and a flaring skirt, and Mrs. Vincent (Mary Geiger) in a deep V-necked silk shantung print, Costumes, from The Sport Shop, were among many shown at Beta Sigma Phi's annual fashion show last week. School Kids Stage Show

Children of 259th Pl. School entertained parents and friends Friday night with "California Cavalcade," a series of acts representing the state's history from the early Russian settlement, the Spanish missions, gold rush days, up to the present time.

Specialty dance and song numbers, skits, and a chorus of fifth and sixth grade students composed the program. Proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a new beaded screen for the school auditorium. The school PTA held its final activity of the year last week.

FIRST GRANDCHILD BORN FOR WARNERS

Announcing the arrival of their first grand-child, a 7 lb. 13 oz. baby girl, Nancy Suzanne, are Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Warner, 1452 El Prado. The little miss, born Sunday, May 30, is the daughter of their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Warner of Victorville, Calif. Paternal grandparents are the Jewis D. Nulls of San Jose.

Awards Given Perry PTA's Cub Pack

Members of Cub Scout Pack 953 C, sponsored by Perry PTA, carried off 20 awards at the last May meeting at the school auditorium. Highlighting the list was a bobcat pin awarded to one new member, Danny Kuyper, from Cubmaster John Tucker.

Wolf badges were won by Mike Brooks, Lenny Damerow, David Smith, and Gary Wagner. Terry Watkins received the bear badge and Tony Damerow the lion badge, while David Jester was elected Denner of Den Six.

T. Damerow, Chris Gresham, Norman Wagner, and Marvin Watkins all received gold and silver arrows. An additional gold arrow went to Randy Mack, while getting silver arrows were Bill Whitlow, Terry Willey, and Jimmy Randall.

Entertainment of the evening, provided by Den Six under the direction of Mrs. Lylene Brackett, was in the form of a showboat skit consisting of songs, dances, and comedy acts. Other dened led the flag salute, songs, and yells.

AROUND THE POOL ... Adding frivolous touches of magenta, pink, aqua, and yellow net bows and streamers to tree branches are, left to right, Mesdames T. J. (Ethyl) Blankenburg; Charles (Dale Brent) Sexton; and Quin (Bertha) Johnson. Women form the decorating committee for tomorrow afternoon's benefit fashion luncheon, to be staged by Las Vecinas Woman's Club around the pool at Portuguese Bend Clubhouse. Parade of fashions "Swinging into Summer" will follow a cocktail hour from 11 a.m. to noon and luncheon from noon to 1 p.m. Nearly 500 are expected at the event, Mrs. Sexton said. (Herald Photo)

M.D. Office to Altar Local Nurse, Navyman Say Vows; To Live in H'Wood

Romance which began two years ago when she was a nurse in his father's office and he a recently-discharged Navy veteran culminated in marriage last Sunday afternoon for Miss Juanita Lois Andrews and Ronald Cunningham.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Millie Andrews, 1439 1/2 W. 221st St., had been working in the local office of Don C. Moshos, M. D., father of the groom, for three years before she met Cunningham, who had spent seven years in the U. S. Navy.

Rites making the pair Mr. and Mrs. were read at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church here by the Rev. C. M. Northrup. Miss Andrews selected a white silk crepe frock encrusted with pearls and white accessories for her wedding costume. Her bouquet, a large, yellow-throated orchid surrounded by delicate clusters of stephanotis, was centered on a white Bible tied with matching streamers.

Her oldest brother, Horace Andrews of San Luis Obispo, escorted her down the aisle. Mrs. Isabelle Terry of Loma Linda served as matron of honor in a pink frock with harmonizing nosegay of rose-elf roses and shell-pink carnations.

After the ceremony, over 90 well-wishing friends and relatives gathered for a reception at the church. Mrs. Andrews received guests in a navy blue frock with white accents, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Ann Cunningham, who is visiting from Chicago, chose a light blue two-piece costume also accented with white. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The bride is a graduate of Torrance High School, while the groom is now employed as an electronics engineer for Philco. The pair plans to reside on Loma Linda Dr. in Hollywood.

Cross of Service Installation Theme For 'Jobie' Queen

MR. AND MRS. RONALD CUNNINGHAM ... Married Here Sunday

Hostess for Bridal Fete

Miss Rose Marie Simmons, 16718 Patronella Ave., and Miss Carol Orth of Alhambra shared hostess honors Sunday at a bridal shower honoring a Mount St. Mary's College classmate, Miss Jean Thomas of Baron. Event, held at the Simons home, carried out the nuptial theme with a large cake baked in the form of a bride doll as decoration highlight. Other Mount St. Mary's College students attending were De-

Masonic Temple last night. The new queen was conducted to office by Janice Moffatt, immediate past honored queen. Seated at her right and left hands wearing the tiaras of junior and senior princesses, respectively, were Carol Maloy and Sally Speck.

Past honored queens Carol Campbell, Marian McDonald, Pat Cleve, Mary Ann Ferguson, Beverly Chambers, and Ann Sciarrotta assisted with the rites while Janet Poh, member of the Bethel, provided background music. Soloist for the evening was Janet Williamson.

Invocation by Leonard Babcock, associate guardian, opened the service. Little Sandy Crabtree, sister of the new queen, served as jewel bearer, while Alverne Barnett was flag bearer. Emcee duties were handled by Ernest Maloy; June Gold and June Rambo served as hostesses; and DeMolay officers, Jim Rathbun and Bill Bloomfield, ushered.

Following the invocation, delivered by Babcock, parents and friends gathered in the banquet hall for a reception feting the new queen and her court. Honcysuckle, ivy, and stock were intertwined to carry out the color motif.

The court includes Diane Allen, suiter; Susan Babcock, marshal; Linda Lane, chaplain; Judy Wolfe, treasurer; Pat McNeese, librarian; Esther Van Wagner, musician; Jeanette Wright, recorder; first through fifth messengers Georgia Kinnamon, Judy Allen, Pat Mitchell, Barbara Van Alstyne, Betty Watkins.
