Boys Prefer Short Coat, Slacks for Everyday Wear

Parents should keep in mind that there is a favored "cos-tume" for school wear for boys that is worn in most parts of the country. This is a hip-length jacket, slacks and an open throated shirt.

Boys find this the "best outfit" for the bike ride to and from school and, besides, "that's what all the other fellows are wearing."

Boys have such fixed ideas on this subject, that little is to be gained from trying to get them into other clothes for everyday school wear. However, it is important to see to it that the slacks, jacket, and shirt are warm.

Worst flannel slacks in one of the dirt-concealing gray shades, or tan or navy dull, finished gabardine, are good choices.

There is a wide range of sturdy, warm wool short coats in the mackinaw cut, and zipper closing jackets. The mackinaw type is new this fall, and it's heavily napped fabric is good wind and weather protection. Both this type and the zipper front jackets are available with a wool lining, which is important insurance against colds.

Some boys will wear gloves if they are inconspicuous. Wool knit gloves are the best hand warmers and are not expensive.

School Schedule Is A Challenge To Busy Moms

By MAXINE LIVINGSTONE
Family Home Editor, Parents' Magazine

It's no secret that when children reach school age, housekeeping problems increase. Among the problems to be coped with are morning traffic in the bathroom, split-time breakfasts, well-packed lunch boxes, and daily fresh wardrobes for young scholars. No wonder mother finds herself bogged down with dishes and laundry

It is seldom that one becomes an "easy" housekeeper merely by accident. It takes analyzing and planning to know what is best for your husband, children and for yourself. Goals which are of greatest importance to some families may not be as vital to your family.

But there are certain housekeeping activities common to every home and there are principles of efficient home management that can help you save time and energy in work that needs to be done.

School is a milestone in a child's life, happy only if a home remains the background for comfortable family living and brings parents and children close together through shared fun, common interests and values. That is why it is so important that housekeeping chores never be allowed to become so burdensome that time for family pleasures is lost.

By constantly experimenting with your household tasks, you will find new and improved methods of getting a job done and you will avoid the boredom and monotony of these necessary chores. Dusting, washing windows and similar tasks will go quicker if you learn to use both hands for a job whenever possible.

Sitting on a posture-back chair when you iron, prepare vegetables, or clean silver, will produce a few minutes of rest in your housekeeping day. When you pick up heavier objects, try bending down from the knees rather than bending from the waist with knees straight; thus you use large muscles which tire less easily.

By studying your work methods, you may be able to eliminate unnecessary motions or even tasks. Dishes which have been placed in a drainer, scalded, covered with a clean towel and allowed to dry are sanitary, and you will have more time to do a job you prefer. If you finish each activity before beginning another, you will gain the satisfaction of a job completed.

Common to all homes in which there are school children, is the need for equipment and appliances which, when properly installed and used, do much toward making housekeeping easier. Work-saving, time-saving equipment frees you from drudgery and helps you to become a more understanding and relaxed parent.

A large-sized refrigerator holds a supply of food which will last for at least a week, thus eliminating those time-consuming daily trips to the market. A freezer enables you to buy large quantities of seasonal foods when prices are low, and you always have food on hand when company drops in.

More Modern Aids
Conveniently located laundry facilities enable you to launder more frequently; thus the children need fewer sets of clothes requiring mending and ironing.

An automatic range with timers, exact heat control and similar features, when used properly, will do a great deal in preparing meals for your hungry family.

An up-to-date vacuum cleaner does faster work.

Accessories Add On to Teen Costume

The teen-ager's accessory list may show that by adding more collars or belts, she will be able to effect more variation in her school costumes. Separate collars in pale pastels or bright prints give dash to fall outfits.

The shirt she stole off the boys' backs, is a perfect mixer with separates. Her collection this fall should include solid colors, such as hot orange or brilliant turquoise, and a print in one of the whimsical patterns of animals or abstract motifs.

In choosing shoes, carefully check the colors on your wardrobe list and select shoes in a tone that will coordinate with your outfits.

Be your own fashion editor. Plan your clothes and coordinations with care and thought. You will find your wardrobe more mixable, and give the impression of more changes.

SHORT CUT . . . to good grooming for the schoolboy is this precision-built, foolproof, home hair cutter. It has dial control that adjusts the blade. Comes with extra blades, case and nylon brush.
