

'Professional' Rabies Vaccine Opponents Hit

"Professional opponents" of rabies vaccination laws came under fire from Dr. Kurt Shery, in an interview with the HERALD this week.

"It is a very common and deceptive tactic to try to discredit a movement by yelling 'Un-American, Socialism, and racket,' especially in anonymous publications when actual facts no truth can be presented to substantiate these claims," he said.

"It is an undisputable fact that wherever vaccination has been enforced, rabies or any disease of a type that can be prevented by vaccination, has disappeared," he said. "Disappearance of smallpox diphtheria, and other disease against and enforced, proves this point."

"I do not believe that owning a dog or any other animal for that matter is a God-given right. It is a privilege and should be treated as such," he declared. "Whenever in the history of human civilization, privileges are abused to the detriment of other citizens, it which vaccination was available is the duty of government to set up regulations for such conditions."

Three cities—Covina, West Covina, and Claremont—have set up clinics where owners may have their dogs vaccinated for $1 per shot, he said. These clinics are contracted to local veterinarians who give the shots, which are included in the license fee. Dog owners also may take their dog to veterinarians of their choice, he said.

Right-of-Way Mishaps Occur Often in State

The California Highway Patrol reports that a traffic accident caused by a violation of the right-of-way occurs once every 17 minutes somewhere in California.

Most of the right-of-way violations noted by the Patrol involve drivers who fail to yield before turning left at intersections," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Another violation causing violation of the rights of others involves drivers who fail to yield in obedience to stop signs.

"Most of these actions are discourteous as well as illegal and, many times, indicate a childish urge to get ahead of the other fellow even at the chance of becoming involved in an accident," Caldwell said. "The Patrol's present program of enforcement emphasis on right-of-way violations will continue until accidents caused by this type of violation are drastically reduced.

"Every driver and pedestrian can help improve this situation by filling their traffic habits to overflowing with courtesy and obedience to the traffic laws, particularly the laws governing right-of-way."

Pittsburgh, Legion Teams Win By Forfeit

Pittsburgh Paint and American Legion both won forfeit games Monday in City League Softball.

The Legion team showed up, but Dow Styron couldn't field a square. The same was true for the Pittsburgh nine, which appeared for a league tussle, but their scheduled opponents, Walteria Businessmen, didn't.
